as through dusty workshops or the physical surfaces of clay wood or metal Judged by classic axioms about labor's virtue axioms originating with Plato and foundational to modern theories of workmanship the vigorous life of craft as represented in these texts might seem a secondhand version of an ideal and purposeful activity But Talking Shop celebrates these texts as a cultural phenomenon of their own In the first book to consider the literary representation of craft rather than of labor in general Peter Betjemann asks how nineteenth and early twentieth century craftspeople writers and consumers managed craft's traditional attachment to physical objects and activities while also celebrating craft in iconic emblematic preeminently textual terms The durable model of workmanship that was created around correlations of craft and narrative physical process and representation and body and text blurred the boundaries between craft and its consumption Discussing a wide range of material from fiction and essays to artifacts the book explores how the era paved the way for the vitality and the viability of a language of craft in much later decades Digital Literary Studies David L. Hoover, Jonathan Culpeper, Kieran

O'Halloran, 2014-02-05 The book presents a varied picture of the possibilities of digital literary studies in the areas of style diction and characterization It uses both huge natural language corpora and smaller more specialized collections of texts created for specific tasks and provocatively applies statistical techniques to broader literary and stylistic questions Book News, 1897 The Economy of the Short Story in British Periodicals of the 1890s Winnie Chan, 2007-01-23 This materialist study of the short story's development in three diverse magazines reveals how at the dawn of modernism commercial pressures prompted modernist formal innovation in popular magazines whilst anti commercial opacity paradoxically formed the basis of an effective marketing strategy that appealed to elitism Integrating methods of cultural studies with formal analyses this study builds upon recent work challenging Andreas Huyssen's provocative formation the great divide of modernism The Atlantic Monthly, 1898 Catalog University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.
