Wong,Felix Knüpling,Mario Kölling,2018-04-01 Federalism has played a central role in charting educational progress in many countries With an evolving balance between centralization and decentralization federalism is designed to promote accountability standards without tempering regional and local preferences Federalism facilitates negotiations both vertically between the central authority and local entities as well as horizontally among diverse interests Innovative educational practices are often validated by a few local entities prior to scaling up to the national level Because of the division of revenue sources between central authority and decentralized entities federalism encourages a certain degree of fiscal competition at the local and regional level The balance of centralization and decentralization also varies across institutional and policy domains such as the legislative framework for education drafting of curricula benchmarking for accountability accreditation teacher training and administrative responsibilities at the primary secondary and tertiary levels Given these critical issues in federalism and education this volume examines ongoing challenges and policy strategies in ten countries namely Australia Austria Belgium Canada Germany Italy Spain Switzerland United Kingdom and the United States These chapters and the introductory overview aim to examine how countries with federal systems of government design govern finance and assure quality in their educational systems spanning from early childhood to secondary school graduation Particular attention is given to functional division between governmental layers of the federal system as well as mechanisms of intergovernmental cooperation both vertically and horizontally The chapters aim to draw out comparative lessons and experiences in an area of great importance to not only federal countries but also countries that are emerging toward a federal system

Accountability in education: meeting our commitments UNESCO, 2017-10-30 The second edition of the Global Education Monitoring Report GEM Report presents the latest evidence on global progress towards the education targets of the UN Sustainable Development Goals With hundreds of millions of people still not going to school and many not achieving minimum skills at school it is clear education systems are off track to achieve global goals The marginalized currently bear the most consequences but also stand to benefit the most if policy makers pay sufficient attention to their needs Faced with these challenges along with tight budgets and increased emphasis on results oriented value for money countries are searching for solutions Increased accountability often tops the list The 2017 8 GEM Report shows the entire array of approaches to accountability in education It ranges from countries unused to the concept where violations of the right to education go unchallenged to countries where accountability has become an end in itself instead of a means to inclusive equitable and high quality education and lifelong learning for all The report emphasizes that education is a shared responsibility While governments have primary responsibility all actors schools teachers parents students international organizations private sector providers civil society and the media 0 3 have a role in improving education systems The report emphasized the importance of transparency and availability of information but urges caution in how data are used It makes the case for avoiding accountability systems with a disproportionate focus on narrowly defined results and punitive sanctions In an era of multiple accountability tools the report provides clear evidence on those that are working and those that are not Back cover
