and beyond European Yearbook of International Economic Law 2015 Christoph Herrmann, Markus Krajewski, Jörg Philipp Terhechte, 2015-07-04 This sixth volume 2015 of the European Yearbook of International Economic Law puts a particular emphasis on non tariff barriers NTBs to trade and the world trade order With the steady reduction of tariff rates since the GATT 47 came into force focus in recent years has been on the vast and complex landscape of non tariff barriers to trade States as well as scholars seemingly struggle with the multitude of measures pooled under this expression as there is no single acknowledged definition of the term and its relation to the term non tariff measures remains equally blurred Particularly in practice and on a multilateral level there appears to be some awkwardness when it comes to coping with NTBs since multilateral trade rules seem to be in conflict with national regulatory autonomy in the pursuit of policy objectives In part one this volume sheds light on the problems of non tariff barriers to trade that arise in various fields Part two focuses on regional integration with an emphasis on relations between East Asia and the European Union In this regard the authors outline the trade and investment relations between the European Union and East Asia including Japan Korea and Singapore Part three offers an overview of recent institutional developments in WIPO ICSID WTO and WTO jurisprudence Part four includes book reviews of recent works in the field of international economic law and part five introduces a new section on publications in the field of international economic law that were released in 2013 and 2014 Regional Economic Outlook, April 2016, Western Hemisphere Department

Mr. Hamid Faruquee, 2016-04-27 The United States has seen an improvement in economic activity driven by consumption and has taken a first step toward gradual normalization of interest rates The U S recovery continues to support activity in Mexico Central America and the Caribbean but China's slowdown has reduced the demand for exports from South America At the same time the region's commodity exporters have experienced further terms of trade shocks as commodity prices continue their decline globally This report describes the policies and economic reforms needed to address the declining productive capacity in Latin America and the Caribbean Three chapters assess corporate vulnerabilities in Latin America analyze the degree of exchange rate pass through in the region and evaluate trends in public and private infrastructure investment The Economics of Resource Allocation in Health Care Andrea

Klonschinski, 2016-03-31 The question of how to allocate scarce medical resources has become an important public policy issue in recent decades Cost utility analysis is the most commonly used method for determining the allocation of these resources but this book counters the argument that overcoming its inherent imbalances is simply a question of implementing methodological changes The Economics of Resource Allocation in Health Care represents the first comprehensive analysis of equity weighting in health care resource allocation that offers a fundamental critique of its basic framework It offers a critique of health economics putting the discourse on economic evaluation into its broader socio political context Such an approach broadens the debate on fairness in health economics and ties it in with deeper rooted problems in moral philosophy Ultimately this interdisciplinary study calls for the adoption of a fundamentally different paradigm to address the distribution of scarce medical resources This book will be of interest to policy makers health care professionals and post graduate students looking to broaden their understanding of the economics of the health care system Europe's Growth Challenge

Rise C. Fred Bergsten,2015-09-17 A new study by C Fred Bergsten shows that India could increase its exports by 500 billion per year by joining the next stage of the Trans Pacific Partnership TPP trade agreement Bergsten argues trade liberalization would enable India to increase its annual economic growth to 8 to 10 percent as targeted by the government of Prime Minister Narendra Modi Millions of new jobs would be created as a result and poverty would be substantially further reduced By contrast India will lose as much as 50 billion of current exports because of increasing discrimination against it by other countries if it remains outside the new global trade network This network includes the plurilateral agreements on international services environmental goods and government procurement now being negotiated in and around the World Trade Organization as well as the TPP and other megaregional arrangements To be accepted into these agreements India will have to implement the economic reform program proposed by the Modi government It will also have to liberalize its own markets to international trade and investment in order to persuade other countries to open their markets to its exports To join the TPP or a Free Trade Area of the Asia Pacific as proposed by China that might succeed it India will probably first have to join the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation APEC forum within the next couple of years President Barack Obama has welcomed India s interest in APEC and if India adopts the needed policy changes should strongly support Indian membership
