Marginality in the Urban Center Peary Brug, Zachary S. Ritter, Kenneth R. Roth, 2018-12-22 This book examines the increasing marginalization of and response by people living in urban areas throughout the Western Hemisphere and both the local and global implications of continued colonial racial hierarchies and the often dire consequences they have for people perceived as different However in the aftermath of recent U S elections whiteness also seems to embody strictures on religion ethnicity country of origin and almost any other personal characteristic deemed suspect at the moment For that reason gender race and even class collectively may not be sufficient units of analysis to study the marginalizing mechanisms of the urban center The authors interrogate the social and institutional structures that facilitate the disenfranchisement or downward trajectory of groups and their potential or subsequent lack of access to mainstream rewards The book also seeks to highlight examples where marginalized groups have found ways to assert their equality No recent texts have attempted to connect the mechanisms of marginality across geographical and political boundaries within the Western Hemisphere Service-Learning and Educating in Challenging Contexts Timothy Murphy, Jon Tan, 2012-12-06 Service Learning and Educating in Challenging Contexts explores the potential of service learning identified as a way to integrate community service with academic study to enrich the on going professional development of educators especially in schools that are located in challenging contexts This collection offers a further refinement of what typically comes under the remit of service learning switching the focus from the learning experience of the learner to the educator and the deep and enriching professional learning opportunities that service learning can offer This approach to service learning promotes collaborative practices amongst professional and in service educators and encourages an integration of theory and practice The international contributors use their own experiences as well as current research to provide a thorough exploration of service learning from national and international perspectives
