another language Taking as its corpus all sub Saharan Francophone African texts that have ever been published in English this book explores the ways in which translators approach innovative features such as African language borrowings neologisms and other deliberate manipulations of French depictions of sociolinguistic variation and a variety of types of wordplay The implications of their translation decisions are drawn out with reference to the broader significances that are often accorded to postcolonial literature and earlier critics calls for a decolonized translation practice are explored from both a practical and theoretical angle These findings are used to push towards a detailed investigation of the postcolonial turn in translation studies drawing on the work of key postcolonial theorists such as Homi K Bhabha and Gayatri Spivak This is a timely and incisive critical assessment of contemporary discourses on the ethics and politics of translation The Rough Guide to the Gambia Emma Gregg, Richard Trillo, 2003 The Rough Guide to The Gambia is the most comprehensive guide to Africa's most accessible country This second edition the result of detailed on the ground research reports on exciting new developments including beautiful eco retreats and imaginative wildlife conservation projects where visitors can see birds monkeys and chimps at close range Detailed maps and plans are complemented by expert and upbeat guidance on the beaches villages and music the mangrove creeks and the River Gambia itself There are first hand reviews of all the best accommodation restaurant and bar options in the country both on and off the beaten track for everyone from shoestring travellers to luxury tourists The guide is also full of trademark candid insights into Gambian history politics music language and culture My Name Is Phillis Wheatley Afua Cooper, 2023-05-02 This is the remarkable story of Phillis Wheatley who is born into an African family of griots or storytellers but captured by slave raiders and forced aboard a slave ship where appalling conditions spell death for many of her companions Numerous sharks follow the ship feeding on the corpses of slaves thrown overboard Weakened by the voyage and near death in a Boston slave market Wheatley is bought by a kind family who nurses her back to health and teaches her to read and write Soon her mistress recognizes that the girl is a quick learner and talented At the age of 12 a torrent of poetry begins to flow out of Wheatley Proud of her achievements her mistress organizes readings in Boston's finest parlors and drawing rooms and Wheatley's fame spreads But even when many in Boston are calling her a prodigy and a genius some remain unsure that a slave should be able to write much less write poetry When Phillis travels to London she is a media sensation feted by the cream of English society A book of her poems is published and she finally gains her freedom This amazing story wide in scope is based on fact and told convincingly from young Wheatley's point of view Displacing Theory Through the Global South Iracema Dulley, Özgün Eylül İşcen, 2024-04-02 Displacing Theory Through the Global South calls for reflection on the historical and geopolitical inequalities that have shaped theorization It asserts that what appears universal often involves generalizations that flatten the particular Critiquing the colonialist imperialist and Eurocentric perspectives that have historically impacted theorization in general and more specifically knowledge production about the so called Global South this volume seeks a different form of engagement that moves beyond such strictures Featuring essays that unsettle distinctions between the general and the particular it proposes a commitment to expanding notions of universality making theorization not only relevant and generative but ultimately transformative

African Realities Josep Martí, 2014-10-02 African Realities Body Culture and Social Tensions is the result of research anthropology work carried out in different African countries mainly in Equatorial Guinea but also in Senegal Cabo Verde Benin and Ethiopia All the different chapters of this volume address a diversity of subjects related to relevant issues such as gender age social class ethnicity and coloniality which are indispensable for understanding current African realities Furthermore all of these chapters investigate the importance people place on the body and more concretely the manner in which these people present it to others as a common denominator After a brief theoretical introduction about the key concept of the book the social presentation of the body the contributors analyse the results of their own fieldwork taking as a starting point the central role that the body plays in the relationship between the individual and society As is clearly shown in this book the social presentation of the body matters From a general and structural point of view it matters because of its great significance within social logics but it also matters because of its relevant role in situational dynamics of social interaction and because of its close relationship with the emotional registers of individuals If the issue related to the social presentation of the body has an undoubted interest for the academic milieu it is also true that it has great social relevance and constitutes an undeniable political concern The policies related to the social presentation of the body serve to mark justify maintain or even build hierarchical relationships of social order at the level of class gender ethnicity or age Throughout the book and from the African studies perspective different views are offered concerning how the body being not only medium of expression but at the same time a site of experience and construction of the self appears in the centre of social tensions and is an object of strategy control or resistance Someone Knows My Name: A Novel Lawrence Hill, 2008-11-17 Winner of the Commonwealth Writers Prize Wonderfully written populated by vivid characters and rendered in fascinating detail Nancy
