The Architects of International Relations Jan Stöckmann, 2022-03-03 Based on extensive archival research this book provides a new and stimulating history of International Relations IR as an academic discipline Contrary to traditional accounts it argues that IR was not invented by Anglo American men after the First World War Nor was it divided into neat theoretical camps To appreciate the twists and turns of early IR scholarship the book follows a diverse group of men and women from across Europe and beyond who pioneered the field since 1914 Like architects they built a set of institutions university departments journals libraries etc but they also designed plans for a new world order draft treaties petitions political commentary etc To achieve these goals they interacted closely with the League of Nations and its bodies for intellectual cooperation until the Second World War put an end to their endeavour Their story raises broader questions about the status of IR well beyond the inter war period
