Tennyson and Victorian Periodicals Kathryn Ledbetter, 2016-03-09 This is the first book length study of Tennyson's record of publication in Victorian periodicals Despite Tennyson s supposed hostility to periodicals Ledbetter shows that he made a career long habit of contributing to them and in the process revealed not only his willingness to promote his career but also his status as a highly valued commodity Tennyson published more than sixty poems in serial publications from his debut as a Cambridge prize winning poet with Timbuctoo in the Cambridge Chronicle and Journal to his last public composition as Poet Laureate with The Death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale in The Nineteenth Century In addition poems such as The Charge of the Light Brigade were shaped by his reading of newspapers Ledbetter explores the ironies and tensions created by Tennyson s attitudes toward publishing in Victorian periodicals and the undeniable benefits to his career She situates the poet in an interdependent commodity relationship with periodicals viewing his individual poems as textual modules embedded in a page of meaning inscribed by the periodical s history the poet s relationship with the periodical s readers an image sharing the page whether or not related to the poem and cultural contexts that create new meanings for Tennyson s work Her book enriches not only our understanding of Tennyson s relationship to periodical culture but the textual implications of a poem s relationship with other texts on a periodical page and the meanings available to specific groups of readers targeted by individual periodicals
