Flexible Query Answering Systems Henning

Christiansen, Mohand-Said Hacid, Troels Andreasen, Henrik Legind Larsen, 2004-08-17

This volume constitutes the proceedings of the Sixth International Conference on Flexible Query Answering Systems FQAS 2004 held in Lyon France on June 24-26 2004 FQAS is the premier conference for researchers and practitioners concerned with the vital task of providing easy, flexible and intuitive access to information for every type of need. This multidisciplinary conference draws on several research areas including databases, information retrieval, knowledge representation, soft computing, multimedia and human computer interaction. With FQAS 2004, the FQAS conference series celebrated its tenth anniversary as it has been held every two years since 1994. The overall theme of the FQAS conferences is innovative query systems aimed at providing easy, flexible and intuitive access to information. Such systems are intended to facilitate retrieval from information repositories such as databases, libraries and the Web. These repositories are typically equipped with standard query systems that are often inadequate for users. The focus of FQAS is the development of query systems that are more expressive, informative, cooperative, productive and intuitive to use. 25 Creationists' Arguments & 25 Evolutionists' Answers Michael Shermer, 1994 Science, Technology, and Society David D. Kumar, Daryl E. Chubin, 2012-12-06 David D. Kumar and Daryl E. Chubin. We live in an information age. Technology abounds, information technology, communication technology, learning technology. As a once popular song went, "Something's happening here, but it's just not exactly clear." The world appears to be a smaller, less remote place. We live in it, but we are not necessarily closely tied to it. We lack a satisfactory understanding of it. So we are left with a paradox. In an information age, information alone will neither inform nor improve us as citizens, nor our democracy, society or institutions. No improvement will take some effort. It is a heavy burden to be reflective, indeed analytical and disciplined, but only constructively constrained by different perspectives. The science-based technology that makes for the complexity, controversy and uncertainty of life sows the seeds of understanding in Science, Technology and Society (STS), as it is known, encompasses a hybrid area of scholarship now nearly three decades old. As D. R. Sarewitz, a former geologist, now congressional staffer and an author, put it: "After all the important and often controversial policy dilemmas posed by issues such as nuclear energy, toxic waste disposal, global climate change or biotechnology, cannot be resolved by authoritative scientific knowledge, instead they must involve a balancing of technical considerations with other criteria that are explicitly non-scientific: ethics, aesthetics, equity, ideology. Trade-offs must be made in light of inevitable uncertainties." Sarewitz 1996, p. 182. Resources in Education, 1995 Health Informatics - E-Book Lynda R.
