Religions En Dialogue:

Cultures and Religions in Dialogue Panikkar, Raimon, 2018-12-20 Dialogue with the Other David Tracy, 1990
Dialogue with the Other expresses David Tracy's ongoing interest in the other and The Other. His reflections enter into dialogue with figures as diverse as Meister Eckhart and William James and traditions as different as those of Buddhism, Christianity and Judaism. David Tracy is Distinguished Service Professor at the University of Chicago. He is Professor of Theology at the Chicago Divinity School and Professor in the Committee on the Analysis of Ideas and Methods. Among his better known are Blessed Rage for Order 1975, The Analogical Imagination 1981 and Plurality and Ambiguity 1987.

Religions and Dialogue Wolfram Weiße, Katajun Amirpur, Anna Körs, Dörthe Vieregge, 2014
Responding to plurality is a demanding task. Nonetheless, it is one of the challenges that European countries are facing today. Over the past decades, the social and religious make-up of Central Europe has changed, and this has led to resentment and fears of mass immigration, social disintegration and the emergence of parallel societies. However, we also find empirical proof that prejudice is lowest where there is direct contact. Therefore, there appears to be an increasing need for more dialogue in order to make the stranger less strange, the unknown known, the other no longer entirely other. This is equally true in academic research. There is a definite need, yet research on questions of interreligious dialogue remains in its infancy throughout the various disciplines engaged in it. The project Religion and Dialogue in Modern Societies ReDi, that started at the Academy of World Religions at the Hamburg University in 2011, seeks to contribute to remedying this deficit. Like the ReDi Project, this book looks at dialogue from different perspectives. It includes both theoretical and empirical approaches as well as a variety of theological viewpoints on a theology of plurality and dialogue from the perspective of different religions. Guidelines for Inter-Religious Dialogue Inter-religious Think-Tank, Gabrielle Girau Pieck, Amira Hafner Al-Jabaji, Tanja Esthe Kröni, Rifa'at Lenzin, Heidi Rudolf, Doris Strahm, Reinhild Traitler-Espiritu, 2015-12-21
In recent decades, more and more people have realised that in our globalised world, cultural and religious plurality is here to stay. This plurality can enrich us all. But suspicion and fear of other cultures and religions is still actively present among us. Tolerating difference needs inner strength and fundamental goodwill. This goodwill must include the readiness to respect other people and their concerns and take them seriously. The Inter-Religious Think Tank responsible for these Guidelines is a group of Jewish, Christian and Muslim women who have all been active for years in the field of interfaith dialogue. The Guidelines are aimed at helping people who are just starting out to plan interfaith projects and events. But they are also aimed at people who have been engaged in interfaith dialogue for some time and may have experienced every now and again that they have done or said something dysfunctional. They are aware that they have dropped a brick but do not quite understand what happened. Examples taken from the praxis of dialogue situations will show where stumbling blocks are liable to be found and how we can avoid them. One special feature of these Guidelines is that it has been written by Jewish, Christian and Muslim women working together. Religions in Dialogue, 19?? The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Inter-Religious Dialogue Catherine Cornille, 2020-06-08 This comprehensive volume brings together a distinguished editorial team including some of the field's pioneers to explore the aims, practice and historical context of interfaith collaboration. Explores in full the background, history, objectives and discourse between the leaders and practitioners of the world's major religions. Examines relations between religions from around the world moving well beyond the common focus on Christianity to also cover over 12 major religions. Features a wealth of case studies on contemporary interreligious dialogue. Charts a long term shift away from a competitive rivalry between belief systems and a change in focus towards the more respectful, cooperative approach reflected in institutions such as the World Council of Churches. Includes up to date commentary on the growing dialogue of recent years written by some of the leading figures working in the field of interfaith discourse.

Religious Dialogue as Hermeneutics Kuruvila Pandikattu, 2001 The Encounter of Faith and Science in Inter-religious Dialogue Sarojini Henry, 2005 Towards a Trinitarian Theology of Religions Pan-Chiu Lai, 1994 Peeters 1994 The Philosophical Basis of Inter-religious Dialogue Mirosław Patalon, 2008-12-18 In the present epoch of tensions between civilizations, challenges being brought by globalization processes and the necessity of the coexistence of various cultures and traditions, the subject of inter religious dialogue seems to be particularly significant. Can religions remain isolated islands? Are their claims of being the only source of theological truth justified? Or should it rather be understood as an effect of interaction between different points of view and common effort of looking for the answers to the questions about God and his relations to the world? What is the role of dialogue? Is it only a politically correct element or maybe something more essential, the basis of reasonable existence and development of religion? Should the direction traced by 20th century's partisans of ecumenical movements be widened in order to embrace also non-Christian religions? What is the orthodoxy and where are its boundaries? The process philosophy creates a convenient and favorable atmosphere for this kind of considerations. The articles of this selection represent different points of view of the discussed topic. The book is addressed to all who deal with the inter religious dialogue, both clergy and laymen, as well as scholars and students interested in the subject.

Why the Science and Religion Dialogue Matters Fraser Watts, Kevin Dutton, 2006-10 Each world faith tradition has its own distinctive relationship with science and the science religion dialogue benefits from a greater awareness of what this relationship is. In this book members of the International Society for Science and Religion (ISSR) offer international and multi faith perspectives on how new discoveries in science are met with insights regarding spiritual realities. The essays reflect the conviction that religion and science each proceed best when they are pursued in dialogue with each other and also that our fragmented and divided world would benefit more from a stronger dialogue between science and religion. In Part One George F. R. Ellis, John C. Polkinghorne and Holmes Rolston III, each a Templeton Prize winner, discuss their views on why the science and religion dialogue matters. They are joined in Part Two by distinguished theologians Fraser Watts and Philip Clayton who place the dialogue in an international context John Polkinghorne's inaugural address to the ISSR in 2002 is also included In Part Three five members of the ISSR look at the distinctive relationships of their faiths to science Carl Feit on Judaism Munawar Anees on Islam B V Subbarayappa on Hinduism Trinh Xuan Thuan on Buddhism Heup Young Kim on Asian Christianity George Ellis the recently elected second president of ISSR summarizes the contributions of his colleagues Ronald Cole Turner then concludes the book with a discussion of the future of the science and religion dialogue

Intercultural Hermeneutics - Understanding Culture and Religion Chibueze Udeani, 2021-01-10 New hermeneutical challenges abound within the process of globalisation especially as they pertain to culture and religion Consequently a new form of hermeneutics approached from an intercultural perspective is needed This requires if not a new set of hermeneutical tools then at least a serious profound and critical analysis and constructive adaptation of the already available set of hermeneutical tools Intercultural hermeneutics in the understanding of religion and culture and among cultures and religions is being proposed here as this new form of art or science of understanding Chibueze C Udeani is of Igbo origin and currently professor of missiology and dialogue of religions at Julius Maximilian's university Würzburg Germany
