Bibliotheca Sacra and Theological Review ,1862 The Human Shore John R. Gillis, 2022-12-22 Since before recorded history people have congregated near water But as growing populations around the globe continue to flow toward the coasts on an unprecedented scale and climate change raises water levels our relationship to the sea has begun to take on new and potentially catastrophic dimensions The latest generation of coastal dwellers lives largely in ignorance of the history of those who came before them the natural environment and the need to live sustainably on the world's shores Humanity has forgotten how to live with the oceans In The Human Shore a magisterial account of 100 000 years of seaside civilization John R Gillis recovers the coastal experience from its origins among the people who dwelled along the African shore to the bustle and glitz of today's megacities and beach resorts He takes readers from discussion of the possible coastal location of the Garden of Eden to the ancient communities that have existed along beaches bays and bayous since the beginning of human society to the crucial role played by coasts during the age of discovery and empire An account of the mass movement of whole populations to the coasts in the last half century brings the story of coastal life into the present Along the way Gillis addresses humankind's changing relationship to the sea from an environmental perspective laying out the history of the making and remaking of coastal landscapes the creation of ports the draining of wetlands the introduction and extinction of marine animals and the invention of the beach while giving us a global understanding of our relationship to the water Learned and deeply personal The Human Shore is more than a history it is the story of a space that has been central to the attitudes plans and existence of those who live and dream at land's end Lloyd's Encyclopaedic Dictionary, 1895

Modern Philology Benjamin Woodbridge Dwight, 1864 Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia, 1887 The Scottish Antiquary, Or, Northern Notes & Queries, 1891 Electricity Robert Lovinger, 2016-06-10 Electricity is the story of a man his father some extraterrestrials and what happens to them when the Sun enters its most violent period in recorded history Charlie Swift is a 32 year old Bostonian who needs direction His father Vic needs healing Both are about to become central players in a planetary drama Charlie is chief of staff to an old college friend who is now a Boston city councilor But a bribery scandal convinces Charlie it's time for a change His next move is a radical one He becomes the Aurora Seeker running excursions for people who want to see the Northern Lights The Sun has been unleashing increasingly powerful storms disrupting life on Earth and igniting aurora at latitudes that have never seen them before Meanwhile incomprehensible lifeforms may have taken up residence in Earth's outer atmosphere What will happen when the Sun sends the mother of all solar storms heading our way Dancing Like There's No Tomorrow Nancy E. Hussey, 2009-12-22 Nancy Hussey never planned to author a book until she discovered her daughter's many teen diaries which were disguised as school notebooks clearly not intended to read by Mom But Mom soon became engrossed in the unknown and intimate details of Sara's first love and a teen melodrama that she knew would keep readers guessing She also believed that Sara's optimism and ability to live her joyful moments to the fullest would be an inspiration for all adolescents and young adults striving to reach their dreams Twenty years of writing about her clients gave Nancy the courage to write about her own daughter's battle for her life she left Sara to share the affairs of her own heart The author's narration including humorous reactions to Sara's teen angst also interweaves the threads of everyone's hopes and fears for Sara as they struggle again and again to deny the specter of her death Food Plane Soup: the Desert Island Letters Ron-Luc Nickell, 2005-12 When the dot com bubble burst in the fall of 2001 the newly laid off author spent three months on Grand Turk in the Turks Caicos Islands of the British West Indies This collection comprises the weekly email updates with which he entertained and stymied his audience back home It follows his misadventures with backwardness and corruption in a colony no longer wanted by its rulers dealing with the events of September 11 in a foreign country and the imminent nervous breakdown which threatened his sanity and forced him back into civilization
