

Why I Want To Become A Physician Assistant

"What do you want to be when you grow up?" The common answer is typically a teacher, firefighter, or astronaut. For me, born into a family that has owned and operated a small horticulture business since 1926, I envisioned myself as a local business manager. Upon entering the University of Arizona, my intent was to obtain a degree in business. However, after completing my pre-business courses and a summer job working in retail, I found myself apathetic. Lacking motivation and feeling dull, I veered off course and switched my major to molecular and cellular biology. Economics and accounting suddenly gave way to ecology and anatomy. With each course, I discovered a spectrum of possibilities that injected a new excitement into my education. I found myself fascinated with the evolution, challenges, and boldness of science.

It wasn't until I had the opportunity to shadow an endocrinologist that I was reassured of my decision to choose science. During one particular encounter, I remember standing nervously in a procedure room, not knowing where to go, what I could touch, or what I was about to see. However, my nerves were nothing compared to the patient who felt glued to the procedure chair due to his fear of needles. I observed how the endocrinologist provided comfort by discussing the procedure in detail, answering every question, and calmly waiting until the patient's nerves were alleviated. He then proceeded with the ultrasound-guided thyroid biopsy. In that moment, I witnessed the combination of care and science, I sensed a new passion, I knew I would pursue a career in medicine.

My experiences as a medical scribe validated my path to becoming a physician assistant. I walked away from my shadowing experience
