

The Water Cycle

What is the Water Cycle?

The water cycle is the movement of water from land to water to the atmosphere and back again over billions of years. Take a look at the picture below. Do you notice how the cycle has no start or end point? It goes around and around and around!

Why Does Water On Earth Move In A Cycle?

The amount of water on Earth never changes. This amount of water has cycled from one form to another for 5 billion years! It can be a gas, a solid or a liquid. That is because the earth is a closed system, meaning that no water can go in or out. So all the water on Earth goes through a cycle, around and around, but always remains on Earth.

Closed System – An area by itself where things like water can't come in or leave.
