Faith and Struggle in the Lives of Four African Americans Randal Maurice Jelks, 2019-01-10 In 1964 Muhammad Ali said of his decision to join the Nation of Islam I know where I'm going and I know the truth and I don't have to be what you want me to be I'm free to be what I want to be This sentiment the brash assertion of individual freedom informs and empowers each of the four personalities profiled in this book Randal Maurice Jelks shows that to understand the black American experience beyond the larger narratives of enslavement emancipation and Black Lives Matter we need to hear the individual stories Drawing on his own

Border Bandits Camilla Fojas,2009-06-03 The southern frontier is one of the most emotionally charged zones in the United States second only to its historical predecessor and partner the western frontier Though they span many genres border films share common themes trace the mood swings of public policy and shape our cultural agenda In this examination Camilla Fojas studies how major Hollywood films exploit the border between Mexico and the United States to tell a story about U S dominance in the American hemisphere She charts the shift from the mythos of the open western frontier to that of the embattled southern frontier by offering in depth analyses of particular border films from post World War II Westerns to drug trafficking films to contemporary Latino a cinema within their historical and political contexts Fojas argues that Hollywood border films do important social work by offering a cinematic space through which viewers can manage traumatic and undesirable histories and ultimately reaffirm core American values At the same time these border narratives delineate opposing values and ideas Latino border films offer a critical vantage onto these topics they challenge the presumptions of U S nationalism and subsequent cultural attitudes about immigrants and immigration and often critically reconstruct their Hollywood kin By analyzing films such as Duel in the Sun The Wild Bunch El Norte The Border Traffic and Brokeback Mountain Fojas demands that we reexamine the powerful mythology of the Hollywood borderlands This detailed scrutiny recognizes that these films are part of a national narrative comprised of many texts and symbols that create the myth of the United States as capital of the Americas
