No Excuse Leadership:

No Excuse Leadership Brace E. Barber, 2011-01-06 Every organization needs good leadership in order to win against the competition Through his own personal story and those of nine other Rangers Barber illuminates fundamental lessons about what it really takes to win These first person accounts of trial and triumph highlight the importance and the inherent truth of the Army's most fundamental leadership principles seeking and taking responsibility for your actions and knowing yourself and seeking self improvement Adhering to those principles and putting them at the core of your organization will push you and your company to do more and do it better

The Core of Leadership Jim Trunick, 2013-08-21 Leadership is a choice You can choose to stay positive and in the moment or you can let yourself be full of doubt and negativity It takes as much energy to be frustrated as it does to be resourceful and it's hard to be both at the same time We tend to think of leadership as flashing swords generals on horseback and Winston Churchill For all the achievement billed as leadership I believe real leadership goes deeper I've learned that true leadership is to win from the middle Power lies in the middle of the organization at its core in its heart We hear about strengthening the core as a physical fitness or martial arts term We strengthen our physical core through nutrition and exercise to be better at delivering or taking a punch And life is a punch we all know it To strengthen our core is to first discover the core of ourselves To get to the core of leadership we need to peel down through the layers of our lives At the core of an apple are the seeds At the core of our bodies is the heart The seed is the essence of the apple and the heart is the essence of our humanity and in both lie the promise of new growth Our core captures and radiates our life and to be better requires strength The center of who we are Humble and sacrificed is the more true measure of teaching ourselves and others to win from the middle

The Leader Coach: Exposing Your Soul Don Levin, Terry Edwards, 2007-02-28 Leaders today come in all shapes sizes colors and creeds It is also quite common to use the term manager and leader interchangeably This book is about the person who strives to take the giant step to become the Leader Coach While certainly still a manager and a leader the role of Leader Coach is all about the special relationship that develops between Leader Coach and Player through the art of effective communication By developing your team players through the use of the Social Performance and Developmental Conversations a Leader Coach can help release achievement drive and enhance performance in their players It is also about the joy and self actualization that occurs during the Journey when a Leader Coach and the Player mutually take the risk and expose their souls to one another during this evolutionary and sometimes extraordinary process The Leadership Coaching Coefficient Triangle is presented for the leader to conduct self analysis to determine current and future leadership capabilities This book is designed as a pragmatic how to book for the leader who is serious about building or improving his or her organization one person at a time Intended more as a guide the authors share personal insights anecdotes and experiences from both their professional and personal lives that have made them successful in these endeavors From servant leadership and selfless giving on the part of the Leader Coach to the ownership of the change that takes place in the person being coached Leader Coaching is both the hardest yet most rewarding work that a leader can engage in and when done properly becomes the Leader Coach's legacy

Werhane, 2023-08-16 In this collection the editors again bring together papers that either exemplify the crossing of disciplinary boundaries or that allow us to do so in and through the conversations they create. The chapters were chosen based on their relevance to similar themes as were discussed in the first volume. By reviewing historical developments in the literature around gender and organization and by drawing on recent scholarship that disrupts the traditional masculine imaginaries that plague leadership constructs, this book challenges us to radically revise our gendered thinking about leading in organizations. The authors included in this volume offer alternative interdisciplinary perspectives on the gender constructs that inform the organizing that takes place in business and society. The book delves deeply into how relationality as concept and practice can help us frame a more inclusive approach to gender within contemporary organizations.

Assessing Educational Leaders Douglas B. Reeves, 2008-07-10 As school systems search for ways to develop and retain effective leaders, a new vision for leadership assessment becomes increasingly vital. This revised edition provides the information and tools necessary to successfully evaluate all types of educational leaders and improve both individual and organizational performance. Incorporating the 10 Dimensions of Leadership, this field-tested resource is based on research, theory, and best practices in leadership, organizational effectiveness, and personnel evaluation. The author, a national expert on educational leadership and accountability, focuses on three critical concepts of leadership: the dramatic impact of leadership on student achievement, equity, and staff morale; the role of both personal predispositions and acquired knowledge/skills on effectiveness; and how evaluation can be used to improve performance instead of merely rendering an assessment. This updated edition includes new features such as sample hallmarks of performance excellence, practical insights into the distinction between evaluating and assessing leaders, a new leadership assessment and coaching tool for providing confidential feedback to senior leaders, examples of real-world applications. By implementing this multidimensional leadership assessment system, school districts can improve teaching, learning, and leadership at every level. Publisher's website.
