Abstract

The popularity of mobile phones has brought about a revolution in the way people do things. Most of this revolution has been in the way people communicate. Today, communication has become instant even for people in different parts of the world.

With people needing to keep in touch with their loved ones, business associates and acquaintances, mobile devices have become an irreplaceable part of life. However, this popularity has come with unintentional and even risky repercussions. According to researchers, communicating in mobile phones is linked to an upsurge in unfocused driving.

This act of distracted driving in return leads to injury and possible loss of lives through road accidents. If this is to be stopped, there is need to move with urgency and dissuade people from using their mobile phones while driving. This research paper looks at the dangers of texting while driving. The research paper will present some statistics to prove that texting while driving is one of the biggest contributors of road accidents in American roads.

An Investigation of the Effects of Reading and Writing Text-based Messages While Driving Joel M. Cooper,Christine Yager,Susan T. Chrysler,2011 Previous research using driving simulation crash data and naturalistic methods has begun to shed light on the dangers of texting while driving Perhaps because of the dangers no published work has experimentally investigated the dangers of texting while driving using an actual vehicle Additionally previous research does not clearly differentiate the dangers associated with reading and writing text messages To address these issues 42 participants drove an instrumented research vehicle on a closed driving course Participants drove under a control text reading and text writing condition Baseline text reading and writing data were also collected outside of the research vehicle Results indicated that impairment associated with texting while driving may be greater than previously thought Principally when reading or writing texts drivers exhibited reductions in reaction time that were nearly twice as great as previously thought Drivers also exhibited nearly identical impairment in the reading and writing conditions suggesting that both reading and writing text messages may be equally dangerous These results have immediate implications for improving our understanding of the dangers of texting while driving and may be useful for future public policy discussions
