Teaching Science to English Language Learners Luciana C. de Oliveira, Kristen Campbell Wilcox, 2017-09-18 This edited collection explores how science can be taught to English language learners ELLs in 21st century classrooms The authors focus on the ways in which pre service and in service science teachers have developed or may develop instructional effectiveness for working with ELLs in the secondary classroom Chapter topics are grounded in both research and practice addressing a range of timely topics including the current state of ELL education in the secondary science classroom approaches to leveraging the talents and strengths of bilingual students in heterogeneous classrooms best practices in teaching science to multilingual students and ways to infuse the secondary science teacher preparation curriculum with ELL pedagogy This book will appeal to an audience beyond secondary content area teachers and teacher educators to all teachers of ELLs teacher educators and researchers of language acquisition more broadly Eleanor Rigby Zamir Osorov, 2014-06-18 This novel is as a keepsake It comes to us from times irreversable when the Kyrgyz Republic was still solidly embedded in the USSR and few people dared to dream about an independent future For most Kyrgyz contacts with the West were limited to the one way traffic of Beatles cassettes brought about by Soviet soldiers serving in Eastern Europe In those late seventies early eighties a period of stability in Soviet history the events of this story take place Four students experimenting with telepathy turn upside down their home village when one of them fixes in his dream a date with an english girl In expectation of her arrival the students agitate the whole population to tidy up their houses the streets and in the meantime their morality Kyrgyz tradition prescribes hospitality but the isolated village lacks of many elementary conveniences By depicting the struggle with the bureaucratic authorities which the students have to fight in order to improve the life circumstances the writer shows the defects of the political system The novel is a cultural critique a profound complaint against the mentality of inertness fostered throughout decades of Soviet rule Though the students are oriented to the West they love their homeland and keep hoping for a better future Now that reality has surpassed all dreams and Kyrgyzstan has become a democratic republic people ardently try to get rid of the past Contacts with the West flourish in the form of international organisations which aim to develop a civil society in Central Asia As a journalist the author is watching the changes in his country attentively His novel was an invitation for the West to come but the story doesnt end with it We can expect a following up since these times of transformation are fascinating for all who are interested in the young republics of the former USSR The editor Kirsten Verpaalen anthropologist The American Biology Teacher ,1998 Fables and Futures George Estreich, 2025-05-27 How new biomedical technologies from prenatal testing to gene editing techniques require us to imagine who counts as human and what it means to belong From next generation prenatal tests to virtual children to the genome editing tool CRISPR Cas9 new biotechnologies grant us unprecedented power to predict and shape future people That power implies a question about belonging which people which variations will we welcome How will we square new biotech advances with the real but fragile gains for people with disabilities especially when their voices are all but absent from the conversation This book explores that conversation the troubled territory where biotechnology and disability meet In it George Estreich an award winning poet and memoirist and the father of a young woman with Down syndrome delves into popular representations of cutting edge biotech websites advertising next generation prenatal tests feature articles on three parent IVF a scientist s memoir of constructing a semisynthetic cell and more As Estreich shows each new application of biotechnology is accompanied by a persuasive story one that minimizes downsides and promises enormous benefits In this story people with disabilities are both invisible and essential a key promise of new technologies is that disability will be repaired or prevented In chapters that blend personal narrative and scholarship Estreich restores disability to our narratives of technology He also considers broader themes the place of people with disabilities in a world built for the able the echoes of eugenic history in the genomic present and the equation of intellect and human value Examining the stories we tell ourselves the fables already creating our futures Estreich argues that given biotech that can select and shape who we are we need to imagine as broadly as possible what it means to belong Faces of Displacement Mykola Soroka,2012 How emigration transformed the creative palette of a major Ukrainian writer and political figure Science, Reading, and Renaissance Literature Elizabeth Spiller,2004-05-27 Science Reading and Renaissance Literature brings together key works in early modern science and imaginative literature from the anatomy of William Harvey and the experimentalism of William Gilbert to the fictions of Philip Sidney Edmund Spenser and Margaret Cavendish The book documents how what have become our two cultures of belief define themselves through a shared aesthetics that understands knowledge as an act of making Within this framework literary texts gain substance and intelligibility by being considered as instances of early modern knowledge production At the same time early modern science maintains strong affiliations with poetry because it understands art as a basis for producing knowledge In identifying these interconnections between literature and science this book contributes to scholarship in literary history history of reading and the book science studies and the history of academic disciplines

Report of the President University of Oregon,1899 Auguste Comte: Volume 2 Mary Pickering,1993 This volume explores the life and works of Auguste Comte during the last and most controversial part of his career the period from 1842 to 1857 Learning to Divide the World John Willinsky,1998 The barbarian rules by force the cultivated conqueror teaches This maxim from the age of empire hints at the usually hidden connections between education and conquest In Learning to Divide the World John Willinsky brings these correlations to light offering a balanced humane and beautifully written account of the ways that imperialism s educational legacy continues to separate us into black and white east and west primitive and civilized Mammal Tracks & Sign Mark Elbroch,2003 Organized for in the field use or at home reference this guide brings together text line drawings range maps and more than 1 000 color photographs to illustrate and describe the tracks and sign left by North American mammals feeding signs scat burrows tunnels bedding areas rubbings remains and
