Question 10: Technology in the workplace

1. Technological advancement has decreased the number of people who are employed in the service sector. This is true. (True/False)

Answer: False. A lot of people are working in the service sector. There are many people who are working in the service sector and they are not getting paid as much as they are. This is because the service sector is growing very fast.

2. What are the "new" jobs that are being created in the service sector? (List at least three)

Answer: The new jobs that are being created in the service sector are:

1. Information technology jobs (e.g. software development, IT support)

2. Health care jobs (e.g. nursing, medical assistants)

3. Education jobs (e.g. teaching, administrative support)

4. Retail jobs (e.g. sales, customer service)

5. Technological advancement has decreased the number of people who are employed in the service sector. This is true. (True/False)

Answer: False. A lot of people are working in the service sector. There are many people who are working in the service sector and they are not getting paid as much as they are. This is because the service sector is growing very fast.

6. Explain the relationship between the service sector and the economy. (List at least three)

Answer: The service sector is the largest part of the economy. It is the part of the economy that provides services to people. The service sector is important because it provides jobs for many people. The service sector is also important because it provides the goods and services that people need. The service sector is the part of the economy that is growing the fastest.

7. Why is the service sector important to the economy? (List at least three)
