Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry Nona Lyons, 2010-04-07

Philosophers have warned of the perils of a life spent without reflection but what constitutes reflective inquiry and why it is necessary in our lives can be an elusive concept Synthesizing ideas from minds as diverse as John Dewey and Paulo Freire the Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry presents reflective thought in its most vital aspects not as a fanciful or nostalgic exercise but as a powerful means of seeing familiar events anew encouraging critical thinking and crucial insight teaching and learning In its opening pages two seasoned educators Maxine Greene and Lee Shulman discuss reflective inquiry as a form of active attention Thoreau's wide awakeness an act of consciousness and a process by which people can understand themselves their work particularly in the form of life projects and others Building on this foundation the Handbook analyzes through the work of 40 internationally oriented authors Definitional issues concerning reflection what it is and is not Worldwide social and moral conditions contributing to the growing interest in reflective inquiry in professional education Reflection as promoted across professional educational domains including K 12 education teacher education occupational therapy and the law Methods of facilitating and scaffolding reflective engagement Current pedagogical and research practices in reflection Approaches to assessing reflective inquiry Educators across the professions as well as adult educators counselors and psychologists and curriculum developers concerned with adult learning will find the Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry an invaluable teaching tool for challenging times

Multicriteria and Multiobjective Models for Risk, Reliability and Maintenance Decision Analysis Adiel Teixeira de Almeida, Cristiano Alexandre Virgínio Cavalcante, Marcelo Hazin Alencar, Rodrigo José Pires Ferreira, Adiel Teixeira de Almeida-Filho, Thalles Vitelli Garcez, 2015-07-01

This book integrates multiple criteria concepts and methods for problems within the Risk Reliability and Maintenance RRM context. The concepts and foundations related to RRM are considered for this integration with multicriteria approaches. In the book, a general framework for building decision models is presented, and this is illustrated in various chapters by discussing many different decision models related to the RRM context. The scope of the book is related to ways of how to integrate Applied Probability and Decision Making. In Applied Probability, this mainly includes decision analysis and reliability theory amongst other topics closely related to risk analysis and maintenance. In Decision Making, it includes a broad range of topics in MCDM, Multi Criteria Decision Making, and MCDA, Multi Criteria Decision Aiding, also known as Multi Criteria Decision Analysis. In addition to decision analysis, some of the topics related to the Mathematical Programming area are briefly considered, such as multiobjective optimization, since methods related to these topics have been applied to the context of RRM. The book addresses an innovative treatment for the decision making in RRM, thereby improving the integration of fundamental concepts from the areas of both RRM and decision making. This is accomplished by presenting an overview of the literature on decision making in RRM. Some pitfalls of decision models when applying them to RRM in practice are discussed, and guidance on overcoming these drawbacks is offered. The procedure enables multicriteria models to be built for the RRM context, including guidance on choosing an appropriate multicriteria method for a particular problem faced in the RRM context. The book also includes many research advances in these topics. Most of the multicriteria decision models that are described are specific applications that have been influenced by this research, and the advances in this field. Multicriteria and Multiobjective Models for Risk Reliability and Maintenance Decision Analysis is implicitly structured in three parts with 12 chapters. The first part deals with MCDM: concepts, methods, and decision processes. The second part presents the main concepts and foundations of RRM. Finally, the third part deals with specific decision problems in the RRM context approached with MCDM A models The Talking Point Thomas R. Flanagan, Alexander N. Christakis, 2021-12-01 The Talking Point is all about how people learn within groups People can be much smarter than crowds if you measure smart as decision making speed Crowds can be much wiser than individuals if you measure wisdom by depth of understanding It is possible to understand a great deal of information yet or maybe because of this you can also be slow to make decisions If rushed crowds will make poor decisions in spite of their wisdom So to get good group decisions on a time scale that will keep pace with policy development needs and social necessities groups have to be supported so that their decision making process can be accelerated Much has been said and written about this problem over the years It is dangerous to have the power of groups without the wisdom of groups and it is tragic to have the wisdom of groups without the power of groups The Talking Point presents a meeting point for the wisdom and power of groups through the use of Structured Dialogic Design With hopeful intentions as a culture we have poisoned the well just when we need it most We have touted design charrettes and stakeholder processes as engagement vehicles and then ignored marginalized or corrupted the very input that we swore to hold as sacred This has created a myth that large scale collaboration is not possible and the myth has led to considerable disillusionment among would be participants and could be sponsors Structured Dialogic Design seeks to bust the myth about our limited capabilities to sustain boundary spanning collaboration To bust this myth Structured Dialogic Design needs to usher in a new wave of collaborative planning Scholars have identified the Structured Dialogic Design methodology as the cutting edge of third phase science where the reality of a situation embraces interactions between objective findings and subjective intentions The Talking Point provides a window for observing how Structured Dialogic Design has been put into practice and paints a panorama of the issues that confront complex social system design This book is itself a bridge between scholarship and practice written to be accessible yet anchored to major themes in cognitive psychology information systems social systems and models of group learning The book is an invitation for transformational leaders and those who support transformational leaders to pick up a new tool in the essential quest to put our nation and our world back on track toward sustainable futures The Talking Point is a fresh source of water in a world that is thirsty for new ways of solving complex problems Honors in Practice ,2010
