Reflections On Fieldwork In Morocco A Quantum Book:

Reflections on Fieldwork in Morocco Paul Rabinow, 2007-05 In this landmark study now celebrating thirty years in print Paul Rabinow takes as his focus the fieldwork that anthropologists do How valid is the process To what extent do the cultural data become artifacts of the interaction between anthropologist and informants Having first published a more standard ethnographic study about Morocco Rabinow here describes a series of encounters with his informants in that study from a French innkeeper clinging to the vestiges of a colonial past to the rural descendants of a seventeenth century saint In a new preface Rabinow considers the thirty year life of this remarkable book and his own distinguished career Reflections on Fieldwork in Morocco Paul Rabinow, 1977-01-01 Presents strategies to help primary students become fluent independent readers Anthropologists in a Wider World Paul Dresch, Wendy James, David J. Parkin, 2000 A dozen papers reflect the newer perspective of studying historical patterns wider regions and global networks beyond traditional anthropological fieldwork New wave scholars reflect on their field and desk experiences and may let the field come to them e g an ethnomusicologist studies the fieldwork of others and observes non Western performances in a British museum Includes bandw photos of authors studies and a substantial bibliography The editors and contributors are from the U of Oxford where the social and cultural anthropology department held a 1997 seminar on the teaching of methods on which this volume is based Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Shadow Side of Fieldwork Athena McLean, Annette

Leibing, 2008-04-15 The Shadow Side of Fieldwork draws attention to the typically hidden or unacknowledged aspects of ethnographic fieldwork encounters that nevertheless shape the resulting knowledge and texts Addressing these invisible elusive unspoken or mysterious elements introduces a distinctive rigor and responsibility to ethnographic research Luminaries in anthropology dare to explore the unspeakable and invisible in the ethnographic encounter Considers personal and professional challenges ethical epistemological and political faced by researchers who examine the subjectivities inherent in their ethnographic insights Explores the value and limitations of addressing the personal in ethnographic research Includes a critical discussion of the anthropologist s self in the field Introduces imaginative rigor to ethnographic research to heighten confidence in anthropological knowledge The Ghosts of Empire Samuel Veissière, 2011 Set against the background of nighttime encounters in the rough streets of Brazil s Salvador da Bahia this experimental ethnography explores how certain transnational characters are at once co constructed and reinvented through the legacy of conquest and the global inequalities of late capitalism Theorizing the desires that drive these encounters as forms of colonial violence and sincere emancipatory strategies author Samuel Veissiere s gaze travels outward across the Atlantic and the historical violence of empire and then turns back inward to revisit the violence of his own white colonial desires Series Contributions to Transnational Feminism Vol 3 Irving's Dialogism in the Alhambra Mohamed Dellal, 2024-12-06 Cross culture and or multiculturalism have become catchwords and phrases in certain studies within academia but they have mostly become battle grounds for contestation and convergence with contestation of identity cultural authenticity and or supremacy and hegemony Yet over and above all these skirmishes convergence tends to win the day as it struggles for a cosmopolitan culture and polity albeit very difficult to achieve The present work follows the same line of thought by trying to bring a new perspective into what it calls cultural dialogism inherent in the corpus of texts borrowed from The Alhambra by W Irving The texts selected display a dual characteristic the first is addressed as organic in the sense that the texts reflect some eight hundred years of natural copulation between Muslim culture brought up by Muslim conquerors to the Andalusian Christendom the second underlines a volition on the part of the author to merge the culture by intruding into the structures of the language and the texts The present works intends to show that these characteristic hybridities transgress the generic boundaries as well as the cultural one producing a brassage breaking the fixity of the boundaries cultural and other causing brisures and sutures This endows the texts with a certain liminality that makes it difficult to authenticate them as belonging to either culture

Clifford Geertz in Morocco Susan Slyomovics, 2013-09-13 Between 1963 and 1986 eminent American anthropologists Clifford and Hildred Geertz together and alone conducted ethnographic fieldwork for varying periods in Sefrou a town situated in north central Morocco south of Fez This book considers Geertz s contributions to sociocultural theory and symbolic anthropology Clifford Geertz made an immense impact on the American academy his interpretative and symbolic approaches reoriented anthropology analytically away from classic social science presuppositions while his publications profoundly influenced both North American and Maghribi researchers alike After his death at the age of 80 on October 30 2006 scholars from local national and international universities gathered at the University of California Los Angeles to analyze his contributions to sociocultural theory and symbolic anthropology in relation to Islam ideas of the sacred Morocco s cityscapes notably Sefrou s bazaar or suq colonialism and post independence economic development gender and political structures at the household and village levels This book looks back to a specific era of American anthropology beginning in the 1960s as it unfolded in Morocco and at the same time the contributions examine new lines of enquiry that opened up after key texts by Geertz were translated into French and introduced to generations of francophone Maghribi researchers who sustain lively and inventive meditations on his Morocco writings This book was published as a special issue of Journal of North African Studies
