Contours of African American Politics Georgia A. Persons, 2017-07-05 Contours of African American Politics chronicles the systematic study of African American politics and its subsequent recognition as an established field of scholarly inquiry African American politics emanates from the demands of the prolonged struggle for black liberation and empowerment Hence the study of African American politics has sought to track codify and analyse the struggle that has been mounted and to understand the historic and changing political status of African Americans within American society This two volume set presents a selection of scholarship on African American politics as it appeared in The National Political Science Review from its initial launch in 1989 to the spring of 2009 Represented are contributions from some of the leading scholars of African American politics who have helped to establish and sustain the field The volumes are organised around themes that derive from the unfolding real life drama of African American politics and its subsequent scholarly treatment The result is a window into the political efforts that meld the historically disparate strands of black political expressions into a reconstructed and strategically nimble electoral based mass mobilisation necessary for optimising the impact of the African American vote Sections in the volumes also chronicle the evolution of the National Conference of Black Political Scientists as a professional organisation The two volumes illuminate a pivotal epoch in black political empowerment and provide a context for the future of black politics

Transforming Politics, Transforming America Taeku Lee, S. Karthick Ramakrishnan, Ricardo Ramírez, 2012-10-05 Over the past four decades the foreign born population in the United States has nearly tripled from about 10 million in 1965 to more than 30 million today This wave of new Americans comes in disproportionately large numbers from Latin America and Asia a pattern that is likely to continue in this century In Transforming Politics Transforming America editors Taeku Lee S Karthick Ramakrishnan and Ricardo Ramirez bring together the newest work of prominent scholars in the field of immigrant political incorporation to provide the first comprehensive look at the political behavior of immigrants Focusing on the period from 1965 to the year 2020 this volume tackles the fundamental yet relatively neglected questions What is the meaning of citizenship and what is its political relevance How are immigrants changing our notions of racial and ethnic categorization How is immigration transforming our understanding of mobilization participation and political assimilation With an emphasis on research that brings innovative theory quantitative methods and systematic data to bear on such questions this volume presents a provocative evidence based examination of the consequences that these demographic changes might have for the contemporary politics of the United States as well as for the concerns categories and conceptual frameworks we use to study race relations and ethnic politics Contributors Bruce Cain University of California Berkeley Grace Cho University of Michigan Jack Citrin University of
