Last Words Karl S. Guthke,1992-10-30 Whether Goethe actually cried More light on his deathbed or whether Conrad Hilton checked out of this world after uttering Leave the shower curtain on the inside of the tub last words regardless of authenticity have long captured the imagination of Western society In this playfully serious investigation based on factual accounts anecdotes literary works and films Karl Guthke explores the cultural importance of those words spoken at the border between this world and the next The exit lines of both famous and ordinary people embody for us a sense of drama and truthfulness and reveal much about our thoughts on living and dying Why this interest in last words Presenting statements from such figures as Socrates Nathan Hale Marie Antoinette and Oscar Wilde I am dying as I have lived beyond my means Guthke examines our fascination in terms of our need for closure our desire for immortality and our attraction to the mystique of death scenes The author considers both authentic and invented final statements as he looks at the formation of symbols and legends and their function in our culture

Last words handed down from generation to generation like cultural heirlooms have a good chance of surviving in our collective memory They are shown to epitomize a life convey a sense of irony or play to an audience as in the case of the assassinated Mexican revolutionary Pancho Villa who is said to have died imploring journalists Don t let it end like this Tell them I said something Originally published in 1992 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 It's Not You Cara D.

Smith,2021-08-26 Broody bad boy Ryan LeDoux is hotter than a Houston sidewalk in July And I m pretty sure he hates my guts My overprotective mother hates that I even know his name Any association with him might tarnish my reputation He s definitely not the kind of guy she keeps setting me up with in her ongoing effort to prevent her past from becoming my future She doesn t talk about it but I m pretty sure my father was a bad boy too But I ve never met him I ve resigned myself to being some guy s trophy wife And really it s the smart thing to do The safe thing But before that happens I want just one night with someone who makes me feel something Someone who will kiss me like I ve seen my friends husbands kiss them when they think no one will notice and who can t keep his hands off me someone like Ryan But not Ryan for obvious reasons Fate is funny sometimes though A work assignment puts me on a collision course with Mr LeDoux One on one I discover he s not who I thought he was And he doesn t hate me at all A fact that becomes painfully obvious when I finally work up the courage to approach him about that one night and he shoots me down Not because he s not interested but because one night wouldn t be enough And he doesn t think he s good enough for me Can I find the courage to live life on my own terms and go after what I really want The Spirit's Course Pasquale De Marco,2025-07-20 Embark on a captivating exploration of the spirit

McLean,Monisha Pasupathi,2009-11-11 Monisha Pasupathi and Kate C McLean Where Have You Been Where Are You Going Narrative Identity in Adolescence How can we help youth move from childhood to adulthood in the most effective and positive way possible This is a question that parents educators researchers and policy makers engage with every day In this book we explore the potential power of the stories that youth construct as one route for such movement Our emphasis is on how those stories serve to build a sense of identity for youth and how the kinds of stories youth tell are informed by their broader contexts from parents and friends to nationalities and history Identity development and in particular narrative identity development concerns the ways in which adolescents must integrate their past and present and articulate and anticipate their futures Erikson 1968 Viewed in this way identity development is not only unique to adolescence and emergent adulthood but also intimately linked to childhood and to adulthood The title for this chapter borrowed from the Joyce Carol Oates story highlights the precarious position of adolescence in relation to the construction of identity In this story the protagonist poised between childhood and adulthood navigates a series of encounters with relatively little awareness of either her childhood past or her potential adult futures Her choices are risky and her future at the end looks dark
