

Combining Transformations

Section A

Complete the transformations by drawing the shapes on the coordinate grids.

- 1) Shape A is first reflected in the y -axis and then translated by the vector $\begin{pmatrix} -2 \\ 6 \end{pmatrix}$ to give Shape B.

- 2) Triangle C is rotated 180° from the point $(-1, 2)$ and is then reflected in the line $y = x$ to give Triangle D.

- 3) Shape E is first enlarged by a scale factor of -2 from the centre of enlargement $(2, -3)$ and secondly translated by the vector $\begin{pmatrix} -4 \\ 3 \end{pmatrix}$ to give Shape F.

- 4) Shape G is rotated 90° clockwise about the origin and is then reflected in the line $x = -3$ to give Shape H.

- 5) Triangle I is enlarged by a scale factor of $\frac{1}{2}$, centre of enlargement $(0, -1)$ and is then reflected in the line $y = -x$ to give Triangle J.

- 6) Shape K is first translated by the vector $\begin{pmatrix} 0 \\ 4 \end{pmatrix}$ and is secondly rotated by 90° anti-clockwise about the point $(-1, 0)$ to give Shape L.

Student-Centered Pedagogy and Course Transformation at Scale Chantal Levesque-Bristol, 2023-07-03 In response to national concerns a decade ago driven by research that showed that higher education was making little impact on students development of broad competencies and critical thinking the provost and president of Purdue University a research university instituted a program whose goals were to build on the accumulated knowledge on effective teaching to facilitate student learning improve outcomes and change the institutional culture around teaching and learning objectives to which many institutions aspire but which few consistently attain or attain at scale This book describes the development of Purdue s IMPACT program

Instruction Matters Purdue Academic Course Transformation from its tentative beginning when it struggled to recruit 35 faculty fellows to the present when 350 have been enrolled and the university has more applications than it can currently handle Overall more than 600 courses have been impacted many of which have seen significantly reduced DFW rates Chantal Levesque Bristol whose Center for Instructional Excellence is part of an institutional team that comprises the Provost s Office Teaching and Learning Technologies Unit Institutional Assessment the Purdue University Library and School of Information Studies and the Evaluation and Learning Research Center describes the evolution of IMPACT lessons learned and the central tenets that have led to its success The purpose of this book is not only to describe the program but also to highlight the importance and implications of the underlying motivational theoretical framework guiding the initiative Having started as a course redesign program that faltered in achieving its objectives the breakthrough came with the introduction of the fundamental motivational principles of self determination theory SDT followed by the applications of these principles to the research in higher education leadership and pedagogy Giving faculty fellows the autonomy to build on their disciplinary expertise pursue their interests and predilections within a guided framework and leveraging interactions with colleagues through FLCs stimulated faculty fellows motivation and creativity This book describes the core and structure of the IMPACT program presents details of faculty learning curriculum explains how the focus on SDT principles shaped the program s evolution and transformation from a course redesign to a professional faculty development program and covers the considerations behind the formation of faculty fellow IMPACT teams A concluding chapter addresses how the IMPACT program having helped faculty pivot to emergency remote teaching when the campus closed owing to the COVID 19 pandemic is being modified so it can be successfully sustained online if circumstances require or as a means to expand its reach in the future While the principles behind this initiative will be of compelling interest to its primary audience of faculty developers several chapters will have appeal to instructors and administrators

A Question of Being Karin Holsinger Sherman,2007-07-20 James Douglass s writings have been recognized as among the most challenging and inspiring explorations of nonviolence and Christian discipleship in the last century Throughout his career Douglass has argued forcefully for the integration of contemplation and resistance theology and cultural critique spirituality and prophetic involvement His work has inspired many of the key figures in recent debates regarding just war Christian nonviolence and radical discipleship and continues to be highly relevant in our contemporary situation In A Question of Being the first book length treatment published on Douglass s writings Karin Holsinger Sherman provides an introduction to and engagement with this important body of work through an exploration into its contextual history influences and main themes Moreover the author argues that these themes work together to create an ontology of nonviolence an ontology that integrates the forces of resistance and contemplation so important to Douglass The book begins by examining Douglass s biography and three broad historical trajectories that give context to his thought the fusion of Christianity and American nationalism in the early Cold War period the emergence of cultural critique in the late fifties and early sixties and the Catholic pacifist tradition and the post 1972 period of disillusionment Holsinger Sherman then considers the lives and thought of Dorothy Day Mahatma Gandhi and Thomas Merton as well as their unique intellectual and exemplary influence on Douglass s ideas After explicating the themes of the cross and the kingdom as they developed chronologically in Douglass s writing career this book draws together Douglass s thought to reveal an ontology of nonviolence In her conclusion Holsinger Sherman argues that this ontology of nonviolence is the key to understanding Douglass s integral theology of contemplation and resistance
