Coaching and Mentoring Eric Parsloe,Melville Leedham,2009-03-03 Coaching and Mentoring examines how to create conversations which encourage personal development exploring the ways in which we can interact to help support and improve performance The second edition of this highly successful book has been radically updated to reflect recent dramatic changes in this important area The authors demonstrate how important it is to relate theoretical models to specific situations in order to gain real practical benefits This edition includes new chapters on the awareness of individual differences as well as a review of the models used by coaches and mentors The book provides a complete resource for those who want to help and support people to learn more effectively

Learner-Centered Leadership Arnold B. Danzig,Kathryn M. Borman,Bruce A. Jones,William F. Wright,2017-09-25 Many new approaches to school improvement are being proposed in the current climate of assessment and school accountability This book explores one of these approaches a new model of leadership training known as Learner Centered Leadership LCL It is built around the fundamental idea that learning and learning communities are natural processes that when properly harnessed can lead to the highest levels of professional engagement and problem solving Key features of this exciting new approach to school leadership include the following Broad based and Generative The book s narratives vividly illustrate the extraordinary ability of LCL to generate new approaches to leadership development For example encouraging and assisting school leaders to reflect on their own leadership attributes relative to the implementation of the school mission to ensure high teacher efficacy and student learning In this respect the volume contributes significantly to the field of school leadership and professional development by extending above and beyond a narrow focus on instructional leadership Practice Oriented By creating communities that encourage conversation and analysis the new data driven models of school improvement are more likely to be successfully implemented Without analytical discourse the process of interpreting school data and transforming it into practice would be largely lost Conceptually Appropriate The realization that everyone within a school students teachers administrators belongs to the same learning community minimizes status differences and encourages teamwork The LCL administrator is much less likely to be authoritarian and power oriented and much more likely to be transformative and student outcome focused This book is appropriate for master s level courses and certification seminars and for inservice workshops dealing with school leadership      Educational Leadership Carolyn S. Carr, Connie L. Fulmer, 2004-07-29 The twelfth annual yearbook of the National Council of Professors of Educational Administration represents the latest work and research of NCPEA members who include both professors and practitioners of educational leadership This collection of essays represents the current thinking in educational administration and principal preparation and is an excellent resource for leadership preparation programs      Radiology Education Rethy K. Chhem, Kathryn M. Hibbert, Teresa van Deven, 2008-10-01 This is a book about scholarship in the broadest sense The writing of this book has shown how through scholarship we can bring together academics practitioners scientists radio logists and administrators from around the world to begin the kinds of conversations that promise to move us to a new way of thinking about and enacting radiology education Over the past century we have witnessed tremendous change in biomedical science and the scope of this change has demanded new approaches to medical education The most significant of the changes in medical education has been a fundamental paradigm shift from a teacher centered approach to a student centered approach This shift combined with the explosion of knowledge has pressed medical schools to undertake major curricular and institutional reform At the same time progress in medical education research methods has led to innovative approaches to support the improvement of learning methods and evaluation Over the past several years there has also been a shift toward thinking about and planning for medical education beyond the undergraduate level to include postgraduate and continuing medical education but also to consider learning within the professional environment and the development of professional continuous education Viewing medical education as a continuum that spans from the first year of medical school until retirement introduces new ways to conceptualize the teaching and learning needs that address lifelong learning demands that extend over 30 or 40 years      Business Perseus Publishing, 2002-08-15 A landmark in reference publishing this resource covers virtually every aspect of the world of business It contains clear concise text plus profiles of 150 countries and biographies of management pioneers Includes 150 maps and 700 illustrations      Leading Professional Practice in Education Christine Wise, Marion Cartwright, Pete Bradshaw, 2012-09-05 This volume provides an overview of key contemporary themes in educational leadership It focuses on developing professional capacity organisation improvement and the implementation of change looking at theoretical frameworks and concepts recent research studies and case examples of effective practice The book covers leading learning and learner leadership change processes and distributed leadership leading professional development for educational contexts Designed to encourage critical analysis and debate this volume will be a useful resource for postgraduate and professional development courses in educational leadership and for practitioners It is a companion to Educational Leadership Context Strategy and Collaboration also published by Sage
