The Routledge Handbook of Tourism and Sustainability C. Michael Hall, Stefan Gossling, Daniel Scott, 2015-02-11

Routledge Handbook of Tourism and Sustainability from C Michael Hall Stefan Gossling Daniel Scott is one of the winners of the ITB Book Awards 2016 in the category Specialist tourism literature Sustainability remains one of the major issues in tourism today Concerns over climate and environmental change the fallout from the global economic and financial crisis and the seeming failure to meeting UN Millennium development goals have only reinforced the need for more sustainable approaches to tourism however they be defined Given the centrality of sustainability in tourism curricula policies research and practice it is therefore appropriate to prepare a state of the art handbook on the relationship between tourism and sustainability This timely Handbook of Tourism and Sustainability is developed from specifically commissioned original contributions from recognised authors in the field providing a systematic guide to the current state of knowledge on this area. It is interdisciplinary in coverage and international in scope through its authorship and content. The volume commences with an assessment of tourism's global environmental e.g. climate emissions, energy use, biodiversity, water use, land use and socio-economic effects e.g. economic impacts, employment and livelihoods, culture. This then provides the context for sections outlining the main theoretical frameworks and constructs that inform tourism and sustainability, management tools and approaches and the approaches used in different tourism and travel industry sectors. The book concludes by examining emerging and future concerns in tourism and sustainability such as peak oil, post carbon tourism, green economy and transition tourism. This is essential reading for students, researchers and academics interested in the possibilities of sustainable forms of tourism and tourism's contribution to sustainable development. Its assessment of tourism's global impact along with its overviews of sectoral and management approaches will provide a benchmark by which the sustainability of tourism will be measured for years to come.

Leading Organizations of the Future Olivier Serrat, 2023-12-27. This book delves into uncharted territory offering an extensive exploration of the future of organizations and how they should be led. In a world characterized by volatility, uncertainty, complexity and ambiguity (VUCA), traditional organizational paradigms no longer suffice. Instead, this book introduces a visionary framework for the leadership of tomorrow's organizations, one that adapts to the unique demands of each situation. Drawing on insights from interviews with 12 subject matter experts, this research-driven work challenges the relevance of twentieth-century leadership styles in the VUCA era. The experts highlight the importance of metagovernance, complexity leadership and sense making as essential components of navigating the ever-evolving landscape of modern organizations. Central to this exploration is the question of how to develop a context-specific leadership management framework capable of guiding organizations through simple, complicated, complex and chaotic contexts. This book not only identifies the pressing need for such a framework but also provides a comprehensive blueprint for its creation. This book is a valuable resource for those who wish to understand the future of organizational leadership and how it can adapt to the challenges and opportunities of the twenty-first century. It not only reshapes the current understanding of leadership but also offers practical insights that will shape the organizations of the future.

Sustainability in Algerian Higher Education Salim Bouherar, Sihem Salem, 2025-01-10. This volume provides a comprehensive overview of the current state of sustainability in Algerian higher education. It examines the policies, initiatives and practices that have been implemented across universities and other educational institutions while also identifying the gaps and opportunities that remain. Through case studies, interviews and analyses, the authors explore how these institutions are working to align their missions with the broader goals of sustainable development and how they are contributing to the national and global discourse on sustainability.

Depopulation, Deindustrialisation and Disasters Katsutaka Shiraishi, Nobutaka Matoba, 2019-06-14. Depopulation, Deindustrialisation and Disasters are three of the biggest problems facing Japan today. This book discusses how sustainable communities are being created in Japan in an attempt to overcome the threat of the triple Ds. It provides an overview of how each of these three core issues endangers the sustainability of local communities especially but also discusses how they might also provide an opportunity to replace outdated paradigms rooted in expansion and competition with a new way forward on a global scale. The authors explore how the Japanese government has followed the worldwide trend of implementing neo liberal policies in response to globalisation and how these policies have resulted in a mass exodus into larger cities such as Tokyo leaving local communities more vulnerable to socio economic threats. The authors highlight non metropolitan areas facing the triple D threat and introduce several case studies on how these are working towards achieving a more sustainable future. Written by members of the LORC Research Centre for the Local Public Human Resources and Policy Development Ryukoku University this collection will be invaluable to scholars across the social and political sciences and to those interested in how innovative policy making can positively influence sustainable development.
