Traveller Of The Century:

Traveller of the Century Andrés Neuman, 2012-03-29 Shortlisted and named a very close contender for the 2013 Independent Foreign Fiction Prize. A novel of philosophy and love politics and waltzes history and the here and now. Andrés Neuman's Traveller of the Century is a journey into the soul of Europe penned by one of the most exciting South American writers of our time. Every year hundreds of books are published but rarely comes a book that reminds us of why we loved reading in the first place that innermost quest for words and dreams. Traveller of the Century is a literary gem. Elif Shafak: A traveller stops off for the night in the mysterious city of Wandernburg. He intends to leave the following day but the city begins to ensnare him with its strange shifting geography. When Hans befriends an old organ grinder and falls in love with Sophie the daughter of a local merchant he finds it impossible to leave. Through a series of memorable encounters with starkly different characters Neuman takes the reader on a hypothetical journey back into post Napoleonic Europe subtly evoking its parallels with our modern era. At the heart of the novel lies the love story between Sophie and Hans. They are both translators and between dictionaries and bed and dictionaries they gradually build up their own fragile common language. Through their relationship Neuman explores the idea that all love is an act of translation and that all translation is an act of love. A beautiful accomplished novel as ambitious as it is generous as moving as it is smart. Juan Gabriel V. Squez: Guardian. A big utterly captivating murder mystery and love story full of history and politics and the hottest sex in contemporary fiction. Daily Telegraph. A thought provoking historical romance in which sex and philosophy mingle to delightful effect. Nigel Gurr. Quintana. Financial Times. Best Books of 2012. Novel of the century. Lawrence Norfolk. Andrés Neuman b. 1977 was born in Buenos Aires and later moved to Granada Spain. Selected as one of Granta magazine's Best Young Spanish Language Novelists. Neuman was included in the Hay Festival's Bogotá 39 list. He has published numerous novels short stories essays and poetry collections. He received the Hipéride Prize for Poetry for El tobogán and Traveller of the Century won the Alfaguara Prize and the National Critics Prize in 2009. A Traveller's Tale of the last century, etc Elizabeth Isabella SPENCE, 1819. Beyond the Traveller's Gaze Giorgia Alù, 2008. This book offers a stimulating analysis of three non canonical texts in different genres written by British women who lived in Sicily in the second half of the nineteenth and the beginning of the twentieth centuries. These texts cover a series of crucial political events as well as social and cultural changes which affected the history of Sicily during the period in question all seen through the direct and indirect experiences of the authors. The book offers a historical perspective on the late Victorian and Edwardian representations of post Unification Italy. At the same time the author challenges current critical literature on travel writing which tends to analyse travel texts without making substantial distinction between works written during a brief visit to a foreign country and those produced during a long term or permanent residence. The book adopts an interdisciplinary comparative approach. The three texts are studied by looking at patterns of connection in other written and visual works produced during or after an experience in Italy By drawing on theories of travel writing genre and gender along with visual and cultural studies the author aims to verify how the three texts respond to being analysed as a distinct group and hence define the specific roles and functions of expatriate women's writing

An Anthology of Women's Travel Writings Shirley Foster, Sara Mills, 2002 This anthology aims to challenge stereotypes of women travellers Rather than simply presenting writings by Victorian women who travelled bravely around the world disregarding social convention and danger the editors present a range of writing and possible ways of being a woman traveller As well as the eccentric woman traveller the editors have included writings by those who might be seen as failed travellers cautious and conventional travellers and those who did not conform to the adventurous heroine stereotype Because travelling as a woman and writing as a woman presents the author with a number of textual problems which must be negotiated Foster and Mills have chosen to include writings which confronted these problems and which resolved them or did not resolve them in different ways These textual problems include the depiction of other women the representation of spatial relations the negotiations undertaken in relation to the adventure heroine narrative and character and the position taken by the author in relation to the representation of knowledge These issues are all crucial in relation to travel writing by women and the women whose writing has been collected together in this anthology have made bold decisions in relation to them
