Universal History: The middle ages. 1895 Edmund Ollier, 1895 The British Adventure Hero Leo Hall, 2025-07-26 This book explores the construction of the fin de siècle adventure hero set against a romanticised vision of the past and a nostalgic ideal of gentlemanliness but also forward looking in terms of forging a future for Britain through the imperialist dream The British Adventure Hero offers a unique focus on how the adventure hero's masculinity is shaped by Victorian industrial technological and scientific developments which influenced concepts of national identity both psychologically and physiologically Central to exploring the relationship between the adventure hero and industrialisation are the original illustrations that were printed with the stories in periodicals and the first illustrated editions This approach to studying the partnership between both text and illustrations demonstrates that the adventure story is a paradox an outcome of invention scientific technological and industrial progress yet also a supposed escape from nineteenth century industrial modernity The book traces this context through analysis of Robert Louis Stevenson s Treasure Island 1883 Arthur Conan Doyle s The Lost World 1912 Jules Verne s Around the World in Eighty Days 1873 and Edgar Rice Burroughs s Tarzan of the Apes 1912 Significantly the book also examines how these authors perspectives on the idealised English identities of their heroes are informed by their Scottish French and American nationalities Cassell's Illustrated Universal History Edmund Ollier,1889
