Trendyville The Battle For Australia S Inner Cities Australian Studies:

Trendyville Renate Howe, Graeme Davison, David Nichols, 2013 This book is an in depth examination of the causes and consequences of urban protest in a democracy It shows how it changed the built environment as well as its participants and resonated in many of our institutions including politics media and multiculturalism Davison Monash Uni Howe Deakin Nichols Uni of Australian Environmental Planning Jason Byrne, Neil Sipe, Jago Dodson, 2014-04-16 Winner of the Planning Institute of Australia s 2015 Cutting Edge Research and Teaching Award Australians from all walks of life have begun to realise the nation s cities cannot sustain profligate growth indefinitely Dwindling water supplies failing food bowls increased energy costs more severe bushfires severe storms flooding coastal erosion rising transport expenses housing shortages and environmental pollution are now daily news headlines Australia s cities may have reached their ecological limits a new model for planning the places we live is needed Understanding the natural cycles of the city is just as important to planning our cities as knowledge of local ordinances indeed much more so A profound knowledge of environmental processes is critical for successful planning in today s world Environmental planners take as their guiding principle the concept of designing with nature approaching cities as living organisms that consume water energy and raw materials and produce waste This metabolic view of cities means we can find new solutions to old problems and steer our cities towards a more sustainable form of planning Written specifically for students and professionals working in city planning in Australia this ground breaking new book enables Australian planners architects and developers to get a better understanding of the fundamental principles of environmental planning for cities showing how land water air energy wildlife and people shape our built environments and how in turn environmental processes must be better understood if we are to make informed decisions about developing cities that are more sustainable The book s coverage is comprehensive from an overview of the concepts and theories of environmental planning through analysis of governance systems and urban environmental processes to agendas and policies for the future all the key topics are covered in depth with recommendations for supporting reading and an unrivalled selection of additional materials Ideal for students essential for professionals Australian Environmental Planning is vital reading for more sustainable cities in a more sustainable world League of Nations Joy Damousi, Patricia O'Brien, 2018-07-16 League of Nations offers new perspectives on the history legacies and impact of the League of Nations The essays in this collection demonstrate how vastly diverse topics from film education Christian youth movements colonial rule in the Pacific islands national economic analyses disarmament humanitarianism and refugees as well as international relations national sovereignty and domestic League of Nations associations all led to Geneva As well as the shared connection with Geneva and the League the chapters are temporally aligned within the twenty five year lifespan of the League from 1920 to 1946 Together the book revitalises the history of the League and deepens understandings of how its many organs operated and impacted on far flung parts of the globe simultaneously crossing borders and scholarly boundaries

Cultural Sustainability in Rural Communities Catherine Driscoll, Kate Darian-Smith, David Nichols, 2017-07-06 There has been a recent expansion of interest in cultural approaches to rural communities and to the economic and social situation of rurality more broadly This interest has been particularly prominent in Australia in recent years spurring the emergence of an interdisciplinary field called rural cultural studies This collection is framed by a large interdisciplinary research project that is part of that emergence particularly focused on what the idea of cultural sustainability might mean for understanding experiences of growth decline change and heritage in small Australian country towns However it extends beyond the initial parameters of that research bringing together a range of senior and emerging Australian researchers who offer diverse approaches to rural culture The essays collected here explore the diverse forms that rural cultural studies might take and how these intersect with other disciplinary approaches offering a uniquely diverse but also careful account of life in country Australia Yet in its emphasis on the simultaneous specificity and cross cultural recognisability of rural communities this book also outlines a field of inquiry and a set of critical strategies that are more broadly applicable to thinking about the rural in the early twenty first century This book will be valuable reading for students and academics of Geography History Literary Studies Cultural Studies Anthropology and Sociology introducing rural cultural studies as a new dynamic and integrative discipline

City Dreamers Graeme Davison, 2016-08-01 I became an urban historian because I believed that our cities deserved more of our curiosity and idealism In City Dreamers Graeme Davison restores Australian cities and those who created them to their rightful place in the national imagination Building on a lifetime's work Davison views Australian history from 1788 to the present day through the eyes of city dreamers such as Henry Lawson Charles Bean and Hugh Stretton and others who have helped make the cities we inhabit Davison looks at significant individuals or groups that he calls snobs slummers pessimists exodists suburbans and anti suburbans and argues that there's a particular twist to the ways in which Australians think about cities And the ways we live in them This extraordinary book excavates the cultural history of the Australian city by focusing on dreamers those who battle to make and re make our cities It reminds us that for most of us the city is home and it is there that we find belonging

Urban Australia and Post-Punk David Nichols, Sophie Perillo, 2020-02-25 Richard Lowenstein's 1986 masterpiece Dogs in Space was and remains controversial divisive compelling and inspirational Made less than a decade after the events it is based on using many of the people involved in those events as actors the film explored Melbourne's postpunk counterculture of share houses drugs and decadence Amongst its ensemble cast was Michael Hutchence one of the biggest music stars of the period in his acting debut This book is a collection of essays exploring the place period and legacy of Dogs in Space by people who were there or who have been affected by this remarkable film The writers are musicians actors and artists and also academics in heritage history urban planning gender studies geography performance and music This is an invaluable resource for anyone passionate about Australian film society culture history heritage music and art

were not dominated by high rise apartments This book documents the changes that have come with the globalisation of the Australian city since the 1970s It tells the story of the major economic social cultural and demographic changes that have come with opening up of Australia in those years with a particular focus on the two biggest cities Sydney and Melbourne which have been transformed But throughout it also looks at how these changes have played out in the smaller capitals and regional centres How does one of the most urbanised multicultural countries in the world see itself This book challenges received ideas about Australia and how it presents itself to the world and how in turn many Australians perceive and understand themselves Rather than rehashing old stereotypes about mateship the Bush or Anzac this book places the globalised city and its residents at the heart of new understandings of twenty first century Australia Paddington Greg Young,2019-02-02 This first major history of Paddington in forty years provides a fresh and revealing perspective on this celebrated heritage suburb in Sydney one of the largest and most intact Victorian enclaves in the world Leading historians and specialists explore the makeup of Paddington s diverse community including its Indigenous colonial post war migrant bohemian and LGBTQ residents and a succession of gentrifiers and discuss the evolution of the suburb s unique architecture and landscape What's in a Name? Richard Harris,Charlotte Vorms,2017-01-01 In What s in a Name editors Richard Harris and Charlotte Vorms have gathered together experts from around the world in order to provide a truly global framework for the study of the urban periphery Urban Emotions and the Making of the City Katie Barclay,Jade Riddle,2021-04-05 This book brings together a vibrant interdisciplinary mix of scholars from anthropology architecture art history film studies fine art history literature linguistics and urban studies to explore the role of emotions in the making and remaking of the city By asking how urban boundaries are produced through and with emotion how emotional communities form and define themselves through urban space and how the emotional imaginings of urban spaces impact on histories identities and communities the volume advances our understanding of urban emotions into discussions of materiality power and embodiment across time and space The Routledge Handbook of Australian Urban and Regional Planning Neil Sipe,Karen Vella,2017-08-25 Where is planning in twenty first century Australia What are the key challenges that confront planning What does planning scholarship reveal about the state of planning practice in meeting the needs of urban and regional Australians The Routledge Handbook of Australian Urban and Regional Planning includes 27 chapters that answer these and many other questions that confront planners working in urban and regional areas in twenty first century Australia It provides a single source for cutting edge thinking and research across a broad range of the most important topics in urban and regional planning Divided into six parts this handbook explores contexts of urban and regional planning in Australia critical debates in Australian planning planning policy climate change disaster risk and environmental management engaging and taking planning action planning education and research This handbook is a valuable resource for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students in urban planning built environment urban studies and public policy as well as academics and practitioners across Australia and internationally

Urban Regeneration in Australia Kristian

Ruming, 2018-02-20 Drawing together leading urban academics this book provides the first detailed and cohesive exploration of contemporary urban regeneration in Australian cities It explores the multiple aspects and processes of regeneration including planning policy strategic and regulatory development financing sustainability remediation and transport The book puts forward a unique and innovative scaled analysis of urban regeneration which positions urban regeneration as more than just large scale redevelopment projects It examines the processes of urban change which occur outside inner suburbs which contribute to regenerating the city as a whole The book moves beyond the planning and economic considerations of the regeneration process to describe the social and cultural aspects of regeneration In doing so it focuses on the management of higher density environments culture as a trigger for regeneration and community opposition to the regeneration process Urban Regeneration in Australia would benefit academics students and professionals of urban geography and planning as well as those with a particular interest in Australian urbanism

The Deindustrialized World Steven High, Lachlan

MacKinnon, Andrew Perchard, 2017-07-20 Since the 1970s the closure of mines mills and factories has marked a rupture in working class lives The Deindustrialized World interrogates the process of industrial ruination from the first impact of layoffs in metropolitan cities suburban areas and single industry towns to the shock waves that rippled outward affecting entire regions countries and beyond Scholars from France Canada Australia the United Kingdom and the United States share personal stories of ruin and ruination and ask others what it means to be working class in a postindustrial world Part 1 examines the ruination of former workplaces and the failing health and injured bodies of industrial workers Part 2 brings to light disparities between rural resource towns and cities where hipster revitalization often overshadows industrial loss Part 3 reveals the ongoing impact of deindustrialization on working people and their place in the new global economy Together the chapters open a window on the lived experiences of people living at ground zero of deindustrialization revealing its layered impacts and examining how workers environmentalists activists and the state have responded to its challenges

Urban Change and Citizenship in Times of Crisis Bryan S. Turner, Hannah Wolf, Gregor Fitzi, Jürgen Mackert, 2020-04-07

The contributions to Urban neo liberalisation bring together critical analyses of the dynamics and processes neo liberalism has facilitated in urban contexts Recent developments such as intensified economic investment and exposure to aggressive strategies of banks hedge funds and investors and long term processes of market and state led urban restructuring have produced uneven urban geographies and new forms of exclusion and marginality These strategies have no less transformed the governance of cities by subordinating urban social life to rationalities and practices of competition within and between cities and they also heavily impact on city inhabitants experience of everyday life Against the backdrop of recent austerity politics and a marketisation of cities this volume discusses processes of urban neo liberalisation with regard to democracy and citizenship inclusion and exclusion opportunities and life chances It addresses pressing issues of commodification of housing and home activation of civil society vulnerability and the right to the city Values in Cities James Lesh, 2022-09-23

Examining urban heritage in twentieth century Australia James Lesh reveals how evolving ideas of value and significance shaped cities and places Over decades a growing number of sites and areas were found to be valuable by communities and professionals Places perceived to have value were often conserved Places perceived to lack value became subject to modernisation redevelopment and renewal From the 1970s alongside strengthened activism and legislation with the innovative Burra Charter 1979 the values based model emerged for managing the aesthetic historic scientific and social significance of historic environments Values thus transitioned from an implicit to an overt component of urban architectural and planning conservation The field of conservation became a noted profession and discipline Conservation also had a broader role in celebrating the Australian nation and in reconciling settler colonialism for the twentieth century Integrating urban history and heritage studies this book provides the first longitudinal study of the twentieth century Australian heritage movement It advocates for innovative and reflexive modes of heritage practice responsive to urban social and environmental imperatives As the values based model continues to shape conservation worldwide this book is an essential reference for researchers students and practitioners concerned with the past and future of cities and heritage The Foreword and Chapter 1 Introduction of this book are available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Making and Unmaking of East-West Link James C Murphy, 2022-07-05 Melbourne's aborted East West Link the massive multi billion dollar inner city toll road project that promised to knit Melbourne closer together was divisive from the start Intense picketing and protests multiple court challenges breathless media coverage and bitter politicking consumed the Victorian parliament for years The link brought the downfall of the single term Baillieu Napthine Liberal government its cancellation cost the state half a billion dollars and it lives on in infamy a byword for brinkmanship waste and politicisation of infrastructure But where did this notorious megaproject come from and what explains its fate Was it a project hand picked by state premiers who miscalculated its electoral value Was it foisted on the government by cunning roads bureaucrats unprepared for the public backlash Or was it simply that opponents of the project succeeded by turning it into an election issue James C Murphy explores the saga from competing vantage points detailing the layers of politics that saturate infrastructure policymaking in Australia
