Gilbert,David Treagust,2009-02-28 Chemistry seeks to provide qualitative and quantitative explanations for the observed behaviour of elements and their compounds Doing so involves making use of three types of representation the macro the empirical properties of substances the sub micro the natures of the entities giving rise to those properties and the symbolic the number of entities involved in any changes that take place Although understanding this triplet relationship is a key aspect of chemical education there is considerable evidence that students find great difficulty in achieving mastery of the ideas involved In bringing together the work of leading chemistry educators who are researching the triplet relationship at the secondary and university levels the book discusses the learning involved the problems that students encounter and successful approaches to teaching Based on the reported research the editors argue for a coherent model for understanding the triplet relationship in chemical education Biodegradable Polymers in Clinical Use and Clinical Development Abraham J. Domb,Neeraj Kumar,2011-05-12 This book focuses on biodegradable polymers that are already in clinical use or under clinical development Synthetic and natural polymers will be included This excludes polymers that have been investigated and did not reach clinical development The purpose of this book is to provide updated status of the polymers that are clinical use and those that are now being developed for clinical use and hopefully will reach the clinic during the next 5 years The book provides information that of interest to academics and practicing researchers including chemists biologists and bioengineers and users physicians pharmacists
