A Microhistory of Early Modern Transatlantic Migration Alejandro Salamanca Rodríguez, 2025-03-25 This microhistory of early modern transatlantic migration follows the journey of the Agata a Dutch frigate hired by Spanish merchants in 1747 to travel between Cádiz and Veracruz. Manned by migrants from across Europe the Agata was intercepted by British privateers on its return trip an event that led to the preservation of most of the documents on board including a collection of personal letters. Through a microscopical lens this book delves into the lives of some of the migrants linked to the Agata either as members of the crew a ship after all is a moving workplace as passengers or as people sending letters through the ship. Their stories and anecdotes illustrate how early modern migrants in the Spanish Atlantic navigated the often restrictive migration laws stayed connected with family and friends back home sent remittances and gifts and built networks to support new migrants. A Microhistory of Early Modern Transatlantic Migration is written for anyone interested in the history of migration regardless of their familiarity with the specific historical context. It aims to engage both specialists and general readers interested in migration labour seafaring and social history. This book also seeks to bridge some gaps between contemporary migration studies and migration history serving as an introduction to these fields for non specialist readers while providing new insights from unpublished sources not previously examined by other historians and offered in translation.

Transatlantic Women Travelers, 1688-1843 Misty Krueger, 2021-03-12 This important new collection explores representations of late seventeenth through mid nineteenth century transatlantic women travelers across a range of historical and literary works. While at one time transatlantic studies concentrated predominantly on men's travels this volume highlights the resilience of women who ventured voluntarily and by force across the Atlantic some seeking mobility adventure knowledge wealth and freedom and others surviving subjugation capture and enslavement. The essays gathered here concern themselves with the fictional and the historical national and geographic location racial and ethnic identities and the configuration of the transatlantic world in increasingly taught texts such as The Female American and The Woman of Colour as well as less familiar material such as Merian's writing on the insects of Surinam and Falconbridge's travels to Sierra Leone. Intersectional in its approach and with an afterword by Eve Tavor Bannet this essential collection will prove indispensable as it provides fresh new perspectives on transatlantic texts and women's travel therein across the long eighteenth century.

Letters and the Body, 1700-1830 Sarah Goldsmith, Sherrylynne Haggerty, Karen Harvey, 2023-07-04 This collection explores the multifaceted relationship between letters and bodies in the long eighteenth century featuring a broad selection of women's and men's letters written from and to Britain North America Europe India and the Caribbean from the labouring poor to the landed elite. In eleven chapters scholars from various disciplines draw on different methodological approaches that include close readings of single letters social historical analyses of large corpora and a material culture approach to the object of the letter. This research includes personal letters exchanged among family and friends formal correspondence and letters that were incorporated into published forewords and appendices journals and memoirs. Part I explores the letter as a substitute for the absent body the imagined physical encounters and performances envisaged by letter writers and the means through which these imagined sensations were conveyed. Part II examines the letter as a material object that served as a conduit for descriptions of the material body and as an instrument for embodied encounters Part III focuses on how correspondents purposefully used their bodies in letters as a means to create intimacy to generate social networks and build a body politic This interdisciplinary volume centred around letters will be of interest to scholars and students in a variety of fields including eighteenth century studies cultural history and literature Transatlantic Brethren Hywel M. Davies,1995 Transatlantic Brethren recreates the Atlantic community of Baptists in Britain and America by focusing on the correspondence and connections of the Rev Samuel Jones of Pennepek near Philadelphia Themes such as shared news of gospel success the development of Baptist associations and a learned ministry made for meaningful if not always harmonious communication between Baptists on both sides of the Atlantic during the eighteenth century BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Transatlantic Abolitionism in the Age of Revolution J. R. Oldfield,2013-08-08 Transatlantic Abolitionism in the Age of Revolution offers a fresh exploration of anti slavery debates in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries It challenges traditional perceptions of early anti slavery activity as an entirely parochial British European or American affair and instead reframes the abolition movement as a broad international network of activists across a range of metropolitan centres and remote outposts Interdisciplinary in approach this book explores the dynamics of transatlantic abolitionism along with its structure mechanisms and business methods and in doing so highlights the delicate balance that existed between national and international interests in an age of massive political upheaval throughout the Atlantic world By setting slave trade debates within a wider international context Professor Oldfield reveals how popular abolitionism emerged as a political force in the 1780s and how it adapted itself to the tumultuous events of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Transatlantic Studies Cecilia Enjuto Rangel,Sebastiaan Faber,Pedro Garcia-Caro,Robert Patrick Newcomb,2019 This book emerges from and performs an ongoing debate about transatlantic approaches in the fields of Iberian Latin American African and Luso Brazilian studies In thirty five short essays leading scholars reframe the intertwined cultural histories of the transnational spaces encompassed by the former Spanish and Portuguese empires Emigrant Worlds and Transatlantic Communities Elizabeth Jane Errington,2007-10-16 Emigrant Worlds and Transatlantic Communities gives voice to the Irish Scottish English and Welsh women and men who negotiated the complex and often dangerous world of emigration between 1815 and 1845 Using information wanted notices that appeared in colonial newspapers as well as emigrants own accounts Errington illustrates that emigration was a family affair Individuals made their decisions within a matrix of kin and community their experiences shaped by their identities as husbands and wives parents and children siblings and cousins The Atlantic crossing divided families but it was also the means of reuniting kin and rebuilding old communities Emigration created its own unique world a world whose inhabitants remained well aware of the transatlantic community that provided them with a continuing sense of identity home and family The Popes, the Catholic Church and the Transatlantic Enslavement of Black Africans 1418-1839 Pius Onyemechi

Transatlantic Dialogue Paul F. Mattheisen, Michael Millgate, 2014-08-27 The mauve life and times of Edmund Gosse glow warmly in these letters delightful to even the most casual reader engrossing to one with an interest in the distinguished correspondents or in the late Victorian and Edwardian eras An obscure figure today to all but literary connoisseurs Gosse was in his day a near giant in both England and the United States Max Beerbohm that discriminating man in a mural of prominent figures who were also his friends sketched Edmund Gosse large among George Bernard Shaw John Masefield G. K. Chesterton John Galsworthy and Lytton Strachey This volume consists primarily of a selection of the letters exchanged between Gosse and a number of American writers notably William Dean Howells Edmund Clarence Stedman Oliver Wendell Holmes Richard Watson Gilder Edith Wharton and Henry James The letters most of them previously unpublished contain much of biographical and general historical interest but the main theme of the book is the exploration of Anglo American literary relations during the last quarter of the nineteenth century and the early years of the twentieth The letters that passed between Gosse and Stedman provide valuable evidence for the study of literary taste on the two sides of the Atlantic and also show how each man sought to enhance the other's transatlantic reputation the correspondence between Gosse and Gilder particularly during the period when Gosse was London editor of Gilder's Century magazine is especially revealing of cultural attitudes and antagonisms A central thread is provided by the warm and long sustained friendship between Gosse and Howells the leading American man of letters of his day The long introduction to the book deals with such topics as Gosse's American reputation his immensely successful visit to the United States in the winter of 1884 1885 based on the manuscript diary that Gosse kept during the visit and his American friendships with particular attention to the relationship with Howells The thoroughness and vitality of the annotation are extremely effective in familiarizing the reader with the people and events in the book Transatlantic Conversations Beth L. Lueck, Sirpa Salenius, 2016-12-06 This unique interdisciplinary essay collection offers a fresh perspective on the active involvement of American women authors in the nineteenth century transatlantic world Internationally diverse contributors explore topics ranging from women's social and political mobility to their authorship and activism While a number of essays focus on such well known writers as Margaret Fuller Catharine Maria Sedgwick Harriet Beecher Stowe George Eliot Louisa May Alcott and Charlotte Perkins Gilman other perhaps lesser known authors are also included such as E D E N Southworth Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Elizabeth Peabody Jeannette Hart and Laura Richards These essays show the spectrum of interests and activities in which nineteenth century women were involved as they moved geographically and metaphorically toward gaining their independence and the right to control their lives Traveling far and wide to Italy France Great Britain and the Bahamas these writers came into contact with realities far different from their own On topics ranging from homeopathy and literary endeavors to politics and revolution they conversed with others reaching and inspiring transnational audiences with their words and deeds and creating a space for self expression in the rapidly changing transatlantic world Transatlantic Images and Perceptions David E.
