jouissance that exceed these constraints These ruptures illuminate multiple epistemologies of selfhood and sensuality that offer frameworks for minoritarian knowledge production which is designed to enable one to sit with uncertainty Through examinations of installations and performances like Judy Chicago's The Dinner Party Kara Walker's A Subtlety Patty Chang's In Love and Nao Bustamante's Neapolitan Musser unpacks the relationships between racialized sexuality and consumption to interrogate foundational concepts in psychoanalytic theory critical race studies feminism and queer theory In so doing Sensual Excess offers a project of knowledge production focused not on mastery but on sensing and imagining otherwise whatever and wherever that might be Man of Taste Rob King, 2025-04-02

Radley Metzger was one of the foremost directors of adult film in America with credits including softcore titles like The Lickerish Quartet and the hardcore classic The Opening of Misty Beethoven After getting his start making arthouse trailers for Janus Films Metzger would go on to become among the most feted directors of the porno chic era of the 1970s working under the pseudonym Henry Paris In the process he produced a body of work that exposed the porous boundaries separating art cinema from adult film softcore from hardcore and good taste from bad Rob King uses Metzger's work to explore what taste means and how it works tracing the evolution of the adult film industry and the changing frontiers of cultural acceptability Man of Taste spans Metzger's entire life his early years in Manhattan's Washington Heights neighborhood his attempt to bring arthouse aesthetics to adult film in the 1960s his turn to pseudonymously directed hardcore movies in the 1970s and his final years which included making videos on homeopathic medicine Metzger's career King argues sheds light on how the distinction between the erotic and the pornographic is drawn and it offers an uncanny reflection of the ways American film culture transformed during these decades Lavishly illustrated with rare photos and publicity images this book paints a vivid picture of a filmmaker who channeled his artistic aspirations into some of the most disreputable movie genres of his day Lair Chad

Marcia Feuerstein,Gray Read,2016-04-15 How do buildings act with people and among people in the performances of life This collection of essays reveals a deep alliance between architecture and the performing arts uncovering its roots in ancient stories and tracing a continuous tradition of thought that emerges in contemporary practice With fresh insight the authors ask how buildings perform with people as partners rather than how they look as formal compositions They focus on actions the door that offers the possibility of making a dramatic entrance the window that frames a scene and the city street that is transformed in carnival The essays also consider the design process as a performance improvised among many players and offer examples of recent practice that integrates theater and dance This collection advances architectural theory history and criticism by proposing the lens of performance as a way to engage the multiple roles that buildings can play without reducing them to functional categories By casting architecture as spatial action rather than as static form these essays open a promising avenue for future investigation For architects the essays propose integrating performance into design through playful explorations that can reveal intense relationships between people and place and among people in place Such practices develop an architectural imagination that intuitively asks How might people play out their stories in this place and How might this place spark new stories Questions such as these reside in the heart of all of the essays presented here Together they open a position in the intersection between everyday life and staged performance to rethink the role of architectural design

Goethe in the Age of Artificial Intelligence Malte Ebach,2023-01-24 Inside you lies a precise scientific instrument the ability to observe Nature and recall past experiences You were born with it and you use it every day You can be trained to use it more effectively to for example compare and discover new species of organisms or new minerals Our senses do have limitations and we often use microscopes telescopes and other tools to aid our observation However we benefit from knowing their limitations and the impact they have on our ability to combine our observations and our experience to make decisions Once these tools replace our direct observation and our experience we ourselves become disconnected from Nature Scientific practice turns into well meant opinions out weighing empirical evidence This is happening now in the current age of big data and artificial intelligence The author calls this the Modern Hubris and it is slowly corroding science To combat the Modern Hubris and to reconnect with Nature scientists need to change the way they practise observation To do so may require the scientist to transform themselves One person who successfully did this was Johann Wolfgang von Goethe His journey demonstrates how one man attempted to take on the Modern Hubris by transforming his life and how he saw Nature Following Goethe s transformation teaches us how we can also reconnect ourselves with Nature and Natural science

If You Seduce a Straight Person, Can You Make Them Gay? John Dececco, Phd,John Patrick Elia,2014-05-01 The debate on whether or not people are born homosexual biological essentialist theory or become homosexual during the course of their lives social constructionist theory continues as each side claims to prove the truth through research and clinical findings This breakthrough book shows the fissures in concepts of the gay and lesbian identity and the one sidedness of both biological essentialist and social constructionist versions of both sexual and gender identity The editors present an alternative view sexual and gender expression is a product of complementary biological personal and cultural influences in If You Seduce a Straight Person Can You Make Them Gay Through theoretical analysis ethnographic and empirical data and case studies the editors show how the one sidedness of both biological essentialist and social constructionist versions of sexual and gender identity make it difficult if not impossible to conceptually determine the origin of an individual s sexual expression This thought provoking book covers many topics that are sure to cause readers to re evaluate their thinking about the origins of gay and lesbian identity Among the topics examined with this fresh perspective are Childhood Cross Gender Behavior and Adult Homosexuality Gay and Lesbian Teachers and Coming Out Homosexuality Marriage Fidelity and the Gay Community Case of Gay Husbands Can Seduction Make Straight Men Gay Gay and Lesbian Identities in Non industrialized Societies Surinam Dutch New Guinea Turkey Nicaragua and Argentina Political Economic

Construction of Gay Male Identities Readers will clearly see that the controversy over the being born gay or becoming gay debate is far from resolved From the beginning the book explores how human beings are less constrained by biology than many would like to believe Social circumstances and economics cause some determination of identity but not exclusively Theoretical introductions to each chapter attempt to synthesize elements on both sides of this most contemporary debate

Hotel Puta Daniel Briggs, 2022-08-01 Hotel Puta is an unflinching and brutal account of the workings of a luxury brothel in Madrid The text is based on 18 months of careful and risky covert ethnographic observation in the brothel in which I worked directly for a man known as el jefe Pablo by promoting the online porn forums and as an English teacher Over the project period I worked in the brothel a couple of nights a week doing these duties and came to know the women who worked there and the security staff Pablo s closest friends and family and his inner circle of contacts and political support buffers The book follows the stories of some of the women predominantly the narrative of Gabriela involved in the sale of sex It also examines Pablo the hotel manager as I also got an intimate insight into how his incessant focus on business fed his aspiration for a class upgrade through the purchase of expensive cars shopping and lavish holidays The context for the lives of these people are the expansion of the sex industry and prominence of internet porn which manufactures desire in an era of neoliberal consumer society The clients who are generally well off men work long hours and feel dislocated from their families yet are bound by a societal injunction to enjoy and nurture their sense of personal indulgence and self gratification Their manufactured fantasies and desires are played out with the women who in the face of austerity politics are bereft of formal labour market opportunities which catapults many into precarious situations in which selling sex becomes a profitable option This has crudely mixed with cultural change in Spain in the wake of increased neoliberal economics which emphasises autonomous meritocracy while at the same time has hollowed out notions of culture family and tradition To cite this book Briggs D 2022 Hotel Puta A hardcore ethnography of a luxury brothel London RJ4All Publications ISBN 978 1 911634 64 5 DOI 10 13140 RG 2 2 25950 51522 Reviews In this fascinating book Daniel Briggs uses his ethnographic skills covertly in a project that he stumbled onto inadvertently He works undertaking several roles in a luxury brothel in Madrid In the pages that follow he shines a light on the management the women and the clients who inhabit this hidden milieu and situates their lives in the broader context of a neoliberal consumer culture that convinces us of our right to enjoy regardless of the harm it may cause others Anthony Lloyd Teesside University In this excellent new book Daniel Briggs successfully penetrates the barriers and takes the reader inside a contemporary brothel to provide new insights into how prostitution works in a luxury context and exposes the day to day life of female sex workers It does not shy away from the realities of prostitution but meticulously documents the lived experiences of female sex workers through a detailed ethnographic study of a luxury brothel in Madrid Sam Barnes Arden University This honest and timely account of a new form of slavery presents the reader with a much needed shocking experience RJ4All Publications is honoured to be hosting this book as part of its RJSeries joining the debate on power Through ethnographic observation and evidence based arguments Briggs takes a bold step in helping us realise the growing phenomenon of sex slavery and the impact of privilege on social justice This book is highly recommended to anyone with research interests as well as personal questions around gender inequality power abuse and individual empowerment Prof Dr Theo Gavrielides RJ4All Publications Editor in Chief Venice Desired Tony Tanner,1992 If there is one city that might be said to embody both reason and desire it would surely be Venice a thousand year triumph of rational legislation aesthetic and sensual self expression and self creation powerful lovely serene Unique in so many ways Venice is also unique in its relation to writing London has Dickens Paris has Balzac Saint Petersburg has Dostoevsky Dublin has Joyce but there is simply no comparable writer for or out of Venice Venice effectively disappeared from history altogether in 1797 after its defeat by Napoleon From then on it seemed to exist as a curiously marooned spectacle Literally marooned the city mysteriously growing out of the sea the beautiful stone impossibly floating on water but temporally marooned as well stagnating outside history Yet as spectacle as the beautiful city par excellence the city of art the city as art and as spectacular example as the greatest and richest republic in the history of the world now declined and fallen Venice became an important site for the European imagination Watery dark silent a place of sensuality and secrecy of masks and masquerading of an always possibly treacherous beauty of Desdemona and Iago Shylock Volpone of conspiracy and courtesans in Otway an obvious setting for many Gothic novels Venice is not written from the inside but variously appropriated from without Venice the place the name the dream seems to lend itself to a whole variety of appreciations recuperations and and hallucinations In decay and decline yet saturated with secret sexuality suggesting a heady compound of death and desire Venice becomes for many writers what is was for Byron both the greenest island of my imagination and a sea sodom It also as this book tries to show plays a crucial role in the development of modern writing Tanner skillfully lays before us the many ways in which this dreamlike city has been summoned up depicted dramatized then rediscovered or transfigured in selected writings through the years The Rocklopedia Fakebandica T.
