Transit States Labour Migration And Citizenship In The Gulf:

Transit States Abdulhadi Khalaf, Omar AlShehabi, Adam Hanieh, 2014-11-23 The states of the Gulf Cooperation Council Saudi Arabia Kuwait Bahrain United Arab Emirates Oman and Qatar form the largest destination for labour migration in the global South In all of these states however the majority of the working population is composed of temporary migrant workers with no citizenship rights The cheap and transitory labour power these workers provide has created the prodigious and extraordinary development boom across the region and neighbouring countries are almost fully dependent on the labour markets of the Gulf to employ their working populations For these reasons the Gulf takes a central place in contemporary debates around migration and labour in the global economy This book attempts to bring together and explore these issues The relationship between citizen and non citizen holds immense significance for understanding the construction of class gender city and state in the Gulf however too often these questions are occluded in too scholarly or overly popular accounts of the region Bringing together experts on the Gulf Transit States confronts the precarious working conditions of migrants in a accessible yet in depth manner Migration and Citizenship pathways in/beyond Asia Elaine Lynn-Ee Ho, Rhacel Salazar

Parreñas, Brenda S.A. Yeoh, 2025-09-17 This edited volume explores the complex and varied pathways to citizenship that migrants navigate in both sending and receiving countries By examining the diverse strategies which migrants employ to handle uncertainties and global disparities this work highlights how citizenship pathways evolve across national and transnational spaces as well as over time Citizenship pathways are defined as the routes and processes through which migrants achieve citizenship recognition and redistribution influencing their pursuit of personal and family goals This approach reveals how different migrant groups experience membership and access economic opportunities with some gaining political and social rights while others face denial Additionally migrants responses to policy changes and their adaptive strategies reshape citizenship practices This volume underscores the dynamic interplay between migration and citizenship illustrating how power relations among states migrants and non migrants are continuously renegotiated affecting societal structures and individual life choices This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

International Labour Migration in the Middle East and Asia Kwen Fee Lian, Naomi Hosoda, Masako Ishii, 2019-08-22 The discourse on migration outcomes in the West has largely been dominated by issues of integration but it is more relevant to view immigration in non Western societies in relation to practices of exclusion and inclusion Exclusion refers to a situation in which individuals and groups are usually denied access to the goods services activities and resources associated with citizenship However this approach has been criticised in relation to gender issues which are very relevant to the situation of migrants The authors in this volume address this criticism Furthermore when framed within a North South discourse it may be potentially ethnocentric to assume that the experience of exclusion is cross culturally uniform Indeed work on migration issues has invariably been conducted within such a discourse The contributors go beyond this binary discourse of exclusion versus inclusion which has dominated migration research They examine the situation of migrants in the Middle East and Asia as one that encompasses both exclusion and inclusion addressing related concepts of empowerment ethnocracy the feminisation of migration and gendered geographies of power liberal constraint and multiculturalism individual agency migrant friendly discourses spaces of emancipation and spaces of insecurity The book highlights current research in the Arab Gulf states and examines multiculturalism in Asia more broadly It will be of particular interest to students and researchers in international labour migration studies in the Middle East and Asia

Migration, Urbanity and Cosmopolitanism in a Globalized World Catherine Lejeune, Delphine Pagès-El Karoui, Camille Schmoll, Hélène Thiollet, 2021-05-10 This open access book draws a theoretically productive triangle between urban studies theories of cosmopolitanism and migration studies in a global context It provides a unique encompassing and situated view on the various relations between cosmopolitanism and urbanity in the contemporary world Drawing on a variety of cities in Latin America Europe Asia Africa and North America it overcomes the Eurocentric bias that has marked debate on cosmopolitanism from its inception The contributions highlight the crucial role of migrants as actors of urban change and targets of urban policies thus reconciling empirical and normative approaches to cosmopolitanism By addressing issues such as cosmopolitanism and urban geographies of power locations and temporalities of subaltern cosmopolites political meanings and effects of cosmopolitan practices and discourses in urban contexts it revisits contemporary debates on superdiversity urban stratification and local incorporation and assess the role of migration and mobility in globalization and social change

Marx in the Field Alessandra Mezzadri, 2021-02-15 Marx in the Field is a unique edited collection illustrating the relevance of the Marxian method to study contemporary capitalism and the global development process Essays in the collection bring Marx to the field in three ways They illustrate how Marxian categories can be concretely deployed for field research in the global economy they analyse how these categories may be adapted during fieldwork and they discuss data collection methods supporting Marxian analysis Crucially many of the contributions expand the scope of Marxian analysis by combining its insights with those of other intellectual traditions including radical feminisms critical realism and postcolonial studies The book defines the possibilities and challenges of fieldwork guided by Marxian analysis including those emerging from the COVID 19 pandemic The collection takes a global approach to the study of development and of contemporary capitalism While some essays focus on themes and geographical areas of long term concern for international development like informal or rural poverty and work across South Asia Southern and West Africa or South America others focus instead on actors benefitting from the development process like regional exporters larger farmers and traders or on unequal socio economic outcomes across richer and emerging economies and regions including Gulf countries North America Southern Europe or Post Soviet Central and Eastern Europe Some essays explore global processes cutting across the world economy connecting multiple regions actors and inequalities While some of the contributions focus on classic Marxian tropes in the study of contemporary capitalism like class labour and working conditions agrarian change or global commodity chains and prices others aim at demonstrating the relevance of the Marxian method beyond its traditional boundaries for instance for exploring the interplays between food nutrition and poverty the links between social reproduction gender and homework the features of migration and refugees regimes tribal chieftaincy structures or prison labour or the dynamics structuring global surrogacy Overall through the analysis of an extremely varied set of concrete settings and cases this book illustrates the extraordinary insights we can gain by bringing Marx in the field

Tribal Reawakening and the Future of State-Building in Kuwait and Qatar Maryam Al-Kuwari,2025-01-01 This open access book approaches the history of tribes and their role in the formation of the modern states of Kuwait and Qatar by blending historical political and sociological perspectives Traditionally this subject has been approached from single perspective often picturing the tribe as a political and social entity that is opposed to the modern state In the Gulf context presenting and discussing the case studies of Kuwait and Qatar aims at revealing that the tribe played a salient role in the formation of the modern state in these two countries as well as in nation building both before the oil era and even after independence Moreover the book bridges an important gap that is often overlooked in GCC studies which explains how the tribe suddenly became a controversial factor in Gulf states and societies The book elaborates on tracing the roots of this transformation and in evaluating the role played by the state as it attempted to manipulate tribes to achieve political and other advantages only to trigger the rise of tribalism as a social and at times political force that undermines the legitimacy of the state The book also highlights the impacts of this transformation not only on the state but also on society as a whole with special emphasis on women in Kuwait and Qatar It is relevant to scholars and advanced students in areas of political sociology identify and gender comparative politics and for social scientists more broadly with a specific interest in the Middle East

migration from Marxist feminist anti imperialist and anti colonial perspectives The present conditions of transnational migration best described as a kind of social expulsion include migrant caravans and detained unaccompanied children in the United States thousands of migrant deaths at sea the razing of self organized refugee camps in Greece and the massive dispersal of populations within and between countries Placing patriarchal capitalism imperialism racialization and fundamentalisms at the center of the analysis Marxism and Migration helps build a more coherent and historically informed discussion of the conditions of migration resettlement and resistance Drawing upon a range of academic disciplines and diverse geopolitical regions the book rethinks migrations from the vantage point of class struggle and seeks to ignite a more robust discussion of critical consciousness racialization militarization and solidarity The Middle East in Transition Nils A. Butenschøn, Roel Meijer, The violent transitions that have dominated developments since the Arab Uprisings demonstrate deep seated divisions in the conceptions of state authority and citizen rights and responsibilities Analysing the Middle East through the lens of the citizenship approach this book argues that the current diversity of crisis in the region can be ascribed primarily to the crisis in the relations between state and citizen The volume includes theoretical discussions and case studies and covers both Arab and non Arab countries Understanding Global Migration James F. Hollifield, Neil Foley, 2022-03-01 Understanding Global Migration offers scholars a groundbreaking account of emerging migration states around the globe especially in the Global South Leading scholars of migration have collaborated to provide a birds eye view of migration interdependence Understanding Global Migration proposes a new typology of migration states identifying multiple ideal types beyond the classical liberal type Much of the world s migration has been to countries in Asia Africa the Middle East and South America The authors assembled here account for diverse histories of colonialism development and identity in shaping migration policy This book provides a truly global look at the dilemmas of migration governance Will migration be destabilizing or will it lead to greater openness and human development The answer depends on the capacity of states to manage migration especially their willingness to respect the rights of the ever growing portion of the world s population that is on the move The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of the Middle East Armando Salvatore, Sārī Ḥanafi, Kieko Obuse, 2022 The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of the Middle East integrates the study of the social dynamics in the Middle East within history culture and politics The volume transcends a purely regional perspective to investigate the global nature of these dynamics and their impact on the life of people in the region It provides a comprehensive perspective in connecting the vexed state society relations in the region with movements of transformation and the affirmation of rights and creativity in the public arenas Qatar 1975/76-2019 Anthony Axon, Susan Hewitt, 2020-09-25 The fourth in this series the Contemporary Archive of the Islamic World CAIW this title draws on the resources of Cambridge based World of Information which since 1975 has followed the politics and economics of the region Qatar s documented history begins in the mid 19th Century Its location established it as having close if differing links to

Bahrain Kuwait and Saudi Arabia Notionally under Ottoman rule Qatar did not become a de facto protectorate of Great Britain until some time after the end of the Ottoman empire The discovery of oil in Qatar happened later than was the case with its neighbours However the discovery of substantial oil deposits and later of enormous gas reserves changed Qatar beyond recognition allowing it to claim in the 1980s that its inhabitants were the richest people on earth Still a semi feudal monarchy it gained full independence in 1971 but was initially considered to be the least developed state in the Gulf By the 21st century many close neighbours felt that in a number of respects Qatar was becoming an unreliable partner To the extent that in 2017 a number of its fellow Gulf Cooperation Council GCC members as well as other states notably Egypt broke off diplomatic relations

Migration and Integration Challenges of Muslim Immigrants in Europe Annemarie

Profanter,Elena Maestri,2021-09-06 As the impetus of globalization continues to gather pace more and more people leave their homes pursuing dreams of a better life for themselves and their families Muslim immigrants converging on Europe from widely divergent communities scattered throughout North Africa the Middle East and South East Asia represent a great variety of local cultures and traditions Trans Mediterranean networks form the basis of migration routes and are key factors in the destinations of these migrants and in the overall process of immigration be this towards Europe or other Muslim countries South North fluxes intertwine with South South fluxes among which the Gulf Arab countries stand out as a prime destination not only for low skilled labour Different situations emerge within a variegated discourse on co existence integration assimilation and the preservation of identity The adoption of this transnational dimension incorporating both destination and points of origin enables the investigation of migration to move beyond a purely Eurocentric approach Thus different national patterns are analyzed with a focus on a number of significant case studies By debating policies and cultural approaches the aim is to add innovative scholarship to the challenge of integration Cross cultural pluralism on the part of the nation states comprising the European Union is one avenue for moving the dialogue between different cultural frameworks towards a more compatible form

Stone Men Andrew Ross,2021-04-06 Winner of the 2019 Palestine Book Awards They demolish our houses while we build theirs This is how a Palestinian stonemason in line at a checkpoint outside a Jerusalem suburb described his life to Andrew Ross Palestinian stone men using some of the best quality limestone deposits in the world and drawing on generations of artisanal knowledge have built almost every state in the Middle East except one of their own Today the business of quarrying cutting fabricating and dressing is the Occupied Territories largest private employer and generator of revenue and supplies the construction industry in Israel along with other countries in the region and overseas Ross s engrossing surprising and gracefully written story of this fascinating ancient trade shows how the stones of historic Palestine and Palestinian labor have been used to build the state of Israel in the process constructing facts on the ground even while the industry is central to Palestinians own efforts to erect bulwarks against the Occupation For more than a century the hands that built Israel s houses schools offices bridges and even its separation barriers have been Palestinian

Looking at the Palestinian Israeli conflict in a new light this book largely based on field interviews in the region asks how this record of labor and achievement can and should be recognized

Life After Oil Mirza H. Alqassab, 2020-08-28 The Gulf Arab states became rich by accident Their golden ticket was oil which has become the lifeblood of their social and economic systems But they are prone to become a vanishing Eden if the oil curse endures further and economic transformation remains a mirage LIFE AFTER OIL highlights the economic vulnerability of the Gulf states after the oil party ends The region depends heavily on imports financed by petrodollars So when demand for oil sinks and prices plummet or when oil and gas reserves ultimately vanish their survival will be extremely challenged LIFE AFTER OIL raises the alarm to the impending survival challenges to face the burgeoning Gulf societies in the post oil era and tackles the ultimate question what will the future look like

Disorder and Diagnosis Laura Frances Goffman, 2024-10-15 Disorder and Diagnosis offers a social and political history of medicine disease and public health in the Persian Gulf from the late nineteenth century until the 1973 oil boom Foregrounding the everyday practices of Gulf residents hospital patients quarantined passengers women migrant nurses and others too often excluded from histories of this region Laura Frances Goffman demonstrates how the Gulf and its Arabian hinterland served as a buffer zone between diseased India and white Europe as a space of scientific translation and ultimately as an object of development In placing health at the center of political and social change this book weaves the Gulf and Arabian Peninsula into global circulations of commodities and movements of people As a collection of institutions and infrastructures pursuits of health created shifting boundaries of rule between imperial officials indigenous elites and local populations As a set of practices seeking to manipulate the natural world health policies compelled scientists and administrators to categorize fluid populations and ambiguous territorialities And as a discourse health facilitated notions of racial difference opposing native uncleanness to white purity and hygiene and indigenous medicine to modern science Disorder and Diagnosis examines how Gulf residents through their engagements with health fiercely contested and actively shaped state and societal interactions
