The Politics of War Trauma Jolande Withuis, Annet Mooij, 2010 This study compares the policies and attitudes toward the health consequences of World War II in eleven European countries Austria Belgium Denmark East Germany France Italy Luxembourg the Netherlands Norway Poland and West Germany It shows the remarkably asynchronous development in these countries of health care financing and treatment for war survivors and of the patients perception of their own health Using an innovative and multidisciplinary approach Withuis and Mooij analyze postwar health care in the context of the European political climate at that time

The Empire of Trauma Didier Fassin, Richard Rechtman, 2009-07-26 This work shows how during the 20th century the perspective on victims of trauma shifted from suspicion to recognition From these ethnographical fieldworks the authors thus propose a broader perspective on the political and moral issues of contemporary societies

Trauma and Mental Health in the Wake of a Technological Disaster Erik De Soir, 2015 A gas explosion in Ghislenghien Belgium July 2004 instantly killed five firefighters one police officer and 18 civilians Moreover 132 people were wounded and many of them suffered severe burn injuries This book aims at clarifying the impact of a technological disaster both phenomenologically and empirically It also wishes to enhance the understanding of the challenges for psychological help in the wake of technological disaster On the phenomenological side the experiences of a disaster survivor are used to set the stage for a discussion on the conceptual differences between mainstream Anglo Saxon trauma theories and the more classical French psychodynamic theories Three chapters provide contextual information on the trauma inflicted by a massive explosion On the empirical side the focus is on the prevalence of posttraumatic stress symptoms in adult and child survivors of a massive gas explosion in their family members as well as in family members of deceased victims Four chapters provide a quantitative approach of trauma related mental health disturbances in adults and children after a technological disaster The results clearly indicate the influence of the degree of exposure peritraumatic dissociation and dissatisfaction with social support on the development of posttraumatic stress symptoms The risk for the development of four types of mental health disturbances somatization depression anxiety and sleeping disturbances was much higher in direct witnesses who have seen human damage The epilogue discusses possible future developments for early psychophysiological stabilization of disaster victims

60 fiches d'activités en santé mentale Louana Moni, Christopher Luccisano, Noémie Barbanera, 2025-01-02 Le temps peut parfois sembler long pour un patient en unité de soins psychiatriques Les soignants confrontés à ce quotidien sont enclins proposer des activités afin de créer du lien et de l'envie chaque jour auprès de patients qui ont choisi ou non d'être là Mais ils n'ont pas toujours le temps ni l'imagination nécessaire et il existe par ailleurs peu d'outils pratiques et facilement utilisables L'objectif de cet ouvrage est de pallier ce manque en proposant sous forme de fiches des idées d'activités destinées aux usagers des soins psychiatriques. Les auteurs ont conçu un panel de possibilités spécifiques la réalisation d'activités en santé mentale. Ces activités peuvent être considérées comme des ponts qui relient les mondes intérieurs et extérieurs des individus et offrent aux malades un espace pour reconstruire leur identité et recouvrir leur potentiel. Elles participent à une prise en charge globale des patients. Une première partie dresse un précis historique de la psychiatrie en France et du rôle du soignant en précisant le cadre thérapeutique et institutionnel de ces activités. Les parties 2-7 proposent plus de 60 d'activités regroupées selon le temps requis : moins de 10 minutes, de 10 à 30 minutes, plus de 30 minutes ou selon le thème et complétées en dernière partie par une série d'annexes détaillant les exemples d'activités : rubans et devinettes, coloriages, origamis, etc. Chaque activité est présentée avec un objectif et différentes clés concernant sa réalisation. Tout l'intérêt de ce projet est de permettre aux soignants, quelles que soient leurs qualifications, de mettre en place des activités ciblées sur un objectif, un temps donné et une population adaptée. Les annexes sont également accessibles en ligne pour permettre leur impression si nécessaire.

Louana Moni est faisant fonction cadre de santé au centre hospitalier Sainte Marie Nice. Christopher Luccisano est infirmier au centre hospitalier Sainte Marie Nice. Il a réalisé tous les dessins de cet ouvrage. Noémie Barbenera est aide soignante au centre hospitalier Sainte Marie Nice.

Stress et trauma dans les services de police et de secours Erik de Soir, Frédéric Daubechies, Patrick Van den Steene, 2012-11. Les repercussions négatives du stress et du trauma constituent une réalité qui ne peut être mise en doute et depuis plusieurs décennies elles ont fait l'objet de multiples recherches et publications. Il semble en effet évident que l'exercice de certaines professions particulièrement stressantes puisse engendrer des repercussions tant sur le plan physiologique que psychologique. De telles constatations ont été effectuées par de nombreux auteurs de toutes nationalités, notamment chez les contrôleurs aériens, le personnel soignant, mais aussi chez les membres des services d'incendie et les policiers. Ce livre propose donc d'évoquer dans sa première partie une nécessaire revue de la littérature concernant le stress d'un point de vue général, pour ensuite l'aborder chez les intervenants. Les autres parties de l'ouvrage se consacreront aux domaines de la psychotraumatologie, des principes de première assistance psychologique, ainsi qu'aux techniques d'entretien et d'intervention individuelle ou collective à la suite d'événements bouleversants. Enfin, le rôle joué par le tissu social de l'intervenant, la description d'un modèle de prévention de prise en charge et de suivi du stress liés aux interventions dans ces professions seront également abordés, toujours dans une perspective résolument dynamique, pratique, accessible à tous les non-initiés. Si ce livre s'adresse aux policiers et sauveteurs, tant dans un but personnel que de soutien, il est évident que d'autres professions confrontées également à des situations de crise pourront aisément l'adapter à leur réalité professionnelle.

Political, Social and Religious Studies of the Balkans General Editor: Raphael Israeli, Jerusalem, Israel, 2021. Since the end of the Bosnia War in 1995 a tradition was embraced by the West of vilifying the Serbs as the villains and the Muslims as their victims. This necessitated the military intervention of the U.S. and NATO on the Muslim side which caused an untold travesty of justice to the Serbs. For indeed there was enough blame to go around to condemn all parties in that war including Serbs Croats and Muslims of committing massacres and huge abuses of the other parties To single out the Serbs as the bad guys simply distorts the facts This collective volume which is the product of a Commission of Inquiry worked 18 months on this project redressing the balance based on a meticulous and well documented report about the process of this inquiry step by step The Man Who Thought He Was Napoleon Laure Murat,2014-09-15 By investigating nineteenth century medical cases and doctors observations this book attempts to understand how political events such as revolutions and the rise of new systems of government affect mental health and or can be represented as delirious in psychiatric and literary discourses Rather than denouncing wrongful confinements this book analyzes what is at stake in the intertwined discourses of madness psychiatry and political theory
