Tv Guide For Lincoln Ne:

TV Guide Almanac Craig T. Norback, Peter G. Norback, 1980 TV Guide , 2007 George Burns Television Productions Richard Irvin, 2014-05-21 An elementary school dropout George Burns went on to become one of America's most beloved entertainers. This book covers a neglected part of his career: his work as a television producer. Burns was not only a behind-the-scenes producer but also filled the role of producer in various comedies in which he starred. Though his forte was situation comedies, Burns' company McCadden Productions also produced dramatic anthology series and pilots, including a pilot considered to be a precursor to the popular TV series Mission Impossible. This book focuses on Burns' wide variety of production efforts and follows his involvement in television productions from his 1950 comedy series with his wife Gracie Allen through his participation in the fantasy sitcom Mister Ed and finally to his last producer credit in 1981, I Love Her Anyway, a remake of The Burns and Allen Show. SRDS Circulation , 2008 Circulation , 2008 The Cultural Politics of Colorblind TV Casting Kristen J. Warner, 2015-06-05 This book fills a significant gap in the critical conversation on race in media by extending interrogations of racial colorblindness in American television to the industrial practices that shape what we see on screen. Specifically, it frames the practice of colorblind casting as a potent lens for examining the interdependence of 21st-century post-racial politics and popular culture. Applying a production as culture approach to a series of casting case studies from American primetime dramatic television, including ABC's Grey's Anatomy and The CW's The Vampire Diaries, Kristen Warner complicates our understanding of the cultural processes that inform casting and expounds the aesthetic and pragmatic industrial viewpoints that perpetuate limiting or downright exclusionary hiring norms. She also examines the material effects of actors of color who knowingly participate in this system and justify their limited roles as a consequence of employment and finally speculates on what alternatives, if any, are available to correct these practices. Warner's insights are a valuable addition to scholarship in media industry studies, critical race theory, ethnic studies, and audience reception and will also appeal to those with a general interest in race in popular culture. Resources in Education , 1992 Serves as an index to Eric reports. Indian Stereotypes in TV Science Fiction Sierra S. Adare, 2009-08-17 According to an early 1990s study, 95 percent of what college students know about Native Americans was acquired through the media, leading to widespread misunderstandings of First Nations peoples. Sierra Adare contends that negative Indian stereotypes do physical, mental, emotional, and financial harm to First Nations individuals. At its core, this book is a social study whose purpose is to explore the responses of First Nations peoples to representative Indian stereotypes portrayed within the TV science fiction genre. Participants in Adare's study viewed episodes from My Favorite Martian, Star Trek, Star Trek Voyager, Quantum Leap, The Adventures of Superman, and Star Trek: The Next Generation. Reactions by viewers range from optimism to a deep-rooted sadness. The strongest responses came after viewing a Superman episode's depiction of an evil medicine man who uses a ceremonial pipe to kill a warrior. The significance of First Nations peoples
