

Graduation Welcome Speech – June 2010

It is my pleasure to welcome families, friends, teachers, and our younger students to graduation day at Wilmington Montessori School.

Earlier this morning, I spoke to you and your families at breakfast. Now, I speak to you as the graduates. I don't know if you all have noticed, but there has been an air of excitement in the halls of Wilmington Montessori for the past week – an excitement that began to peak yesterday when your posters went up in the lobby, graduation practice began, we had our last all school assembly and we all began to listen to Kelly practicing the music for today in the gym. This entire school community – your teachers, your parents, grandparents, Aunts and Uncles, and brothers and sisters are so very proud of you today.

Stuck Improving Decoteau Irby, 2022-10-18 An incisive case study of changemaking in action Stuck Improving analyzes the complex process of racial equity reform within K-12 schools Scholar Decoteau J Irby emphasizes that racial equity is dynamic shifting as our emerging racial consciousness evolves and as racism asserts itself anew Those who accept the challenge of reform find themselves stuck improving caught in a perpetual dilemma of both making progress and finding ever more progress to be made Rather than dismissing stuckness as failure Irby embraces it as an inextricable part of the improvement process Irby brings readers into a large suburban high school as school leaders strive to redress racial inequities among the school's increasingly diverse student population Over a five year period he witnesses both progress and setbacks in the leaders' attempts to provide an educational environment that is intellectually socioemotionally and culturally affirming Looking beyond this single school Irby pinpoints the factors that are essential to the work of equity reform in education He argues that lasting transformation relies most urgently on the cultivation of organizational conditions that render structural racism impossible to preserve Irby emphasizes how schools must strengthen and leverage personal relational and organizational capacities in order to sustain meaningful change Stuck Improving offers a clear-eyed accounting of school improvement practices including data-driven instructional approaches teacher cultural
