Evolutionary Gerontology and Geriatrics Giacinto Libertini, Graziamaria Corbi, Valeria Conti, Olga Shubernetskaya, Nicola Ferrara, 2021-05-25 This book provides concrete scientific basis that we can conceive the possibility of modifying or even completely canceling aging process despite the fact that aging is commonly regarded as the result of the overall effects of many uncontrollable degenerative phenomena The authors illustrate in detail the mechanisms by which cells and the whole organism age Actions by which it is possible or will be possible within a limited time to operate for modifying aging are also debated The discussion is conducted within the frame and the concepts of evolutionary medicine which is also indispensable for distinguishing between the manifestations of aging and i diseases that worsen with age and ii acceleration of normal aging rates caused by unhealthy lifestyle habits and other avoidable factors The book also discusses the impact of aging on overall mortality and the strange situation that according to official statistics aging does not exist as cause of death This book is a turning point between a gerontology and geriatrics conceived as the study and vain treatment of an incurable condition and one in which these disciplines examine the how and why of a physiological phenomenon that can be modified up to a possible total control This means transforming the medical prevention and treatment of physiological aging from the greatest failure to the greatest success of medicine The Professional Papers of Weston A. Libertini,Graziamaria Corbi,Olga Shubernetskaya,Klara Komici,Nicola Ferrara,2025-02-24 This book proposes a way to radically renew medicine by extending to medicine the concepts of evolutionary biology The book considers diseases not as unpredictable harmful events but as logical consequences of evolutionary mechanisms In particular a large part of the most widespread diseases that afflict modern populations are interpreted as the consequence of discordances mismatches between new living conditions and the adaptation of our species It discusses the basic concepts as well as diseases deriving from alterations of the genotype and general concepts about diseases deriving from alterations of the ecological niche It also describes diseases deriving from relations with other living beings especially when the ecological niche is altered diseases deriving from conditions beyond the adaptation range and physiological phenomena that cause troubles and suffering or even death A particular study is dedicated to the interpretation of aging and its consequences in normal or altered conditions of the ecological niche The final part of the book describes the implementation of evolutionary medicine This book complementing the Evolutionary Gerontology and Geriatrics book which is also published in this series provides a valuable read for scholars and students in the fields of medicine evolutionary biology preventive medicine and gerontology
