Vêtement Monastique en Egypte (IVe-VIIIe Siècle) Maria Mossakowska-Gaubert, 2023-03-20 This book focuses on clothing customs and their evolution in the Egyptian monastic environment of late antiquity and the early Arab period It falls within the realm of studies on ancient societies as seen through their languages material culture daily life and religious practices The research presented here contributes to a general discussion on the clothing worn in Egypt and its role as a social marker The designations and forms of monastic vestments are explored through a meticulous lexicographical study and an investigation of the garments that have been preserved or are represented in iconography in order to place them in the context of ancient fashion and to shed light on the technological changes that affected their production The idea of a costume specific to the monastic rank seems to have appeared in Egyptian society in the middle of the 4th century This official garb was reserved for special situations such as participation in the liturgy while ordinary garments were worn by the monk for everyday tasks and for sleeping Considered separately the elements that made up the official attire were commonly worn at this time with the exception of the apron and scapular and it was only when worn together that they distinguished a monk from a layman

Literary Translation in Periodicals Laura Fólca, Diana Roig-Sanz, Stefania Caristia, 2020-12-10 While translation history literary translation and periodical publications have been extensively analyzed within the fields of Translation Studies Comparative Literature and Communication Sciences the relationship between these three topics remains underexplored Literary Translation in Periodicals argues that there is a pressing need for an analytical focus on translation in periodicals a collaborative network of researchers and a transnational and interdisciplinary approach The book pursues two goals 1 to highlight the innovative theoretical and methodological issues intrinsic to analyzing literary translation in periodical publications on a small and large scale and 2 to contribute to a developing field by providing several case studies on translation in periodicals over a wide range of areas and periods Europe

Latin America and Asia in the 19th and 20th centuries that go beyond the more traditional focus on national and European periodicals and translations Combining qualitative and quantitative methods of analysis as well as hermeneutical and sociological approaches this book reviews conceptual and methodological tools and proposes innovative techniques such as social network analysis big data and large scale analysis for tracing the history and evolution of literary translation in periodical publications
