The Gaza Catastrophe Gilbert Achcar, 2025-06-26 From a foremost expert on the Middle East a searing indictment of the forces that led to the genocidal war on Gaza and its reverberations across the globe The destruction rained on Gaza has been seen by many as a vengeful overreaction to the reckless Hamas led attack on 7 October 2023 However the new catastrophe befalling the Palestinian people is the continuation of a decades long course in which Israeli politics policies and military strategies have inexorably shifted to the right Gaza was the final nail in the coffin of the Atlanticist international liberal order before Donald Trump's return to the White House The Gaza Catastrophe reckons with the lethal consequences and the significance of a war waged by an advanced military industrial state with full US participation and support from the West Renowned political scientist Gilbert Achcar explores the dynamics of a complex historical process that culminated in the war on Gaza and wider conflict in the Middle East He offers critical insights on the genocide's regional and international ramifications as well as radical critiques of Zionism Hamas and other state and non state actors This vital volume is essential to understanding the root causes of the violence destabilising the entire region and the wider world as well as the conditions required to bring it to an end

Lovell, 1984-07-19 This study is a contribution to the debate begun just after the October Revolution concerning the relationship between Marx's project and Soviet society It focuses however only on the political aspects of the matter to what extent was early Soviet authoritarianism the necessary outcome of Marx's works Since Lenin's practice and theory largely determined and justified the early political character of the Soviet state we may ask whether Lenin was implementing Marx's project or a project of his own design Lenin influenced by debates within Social Democracy and by the experience of the Russian revolutionary tradition used a one sided interpretation of Marx's work to build and defend a transition which was fundamentally authoritarian Marx was not causally responsible for the theoretical foundation of Soviet authoritarianism

Raising Germans in the Age of Empire Jeff Bowersox, 2013-05-09 Raising Germans in the Age of Empire is a cultural history of the German colonial imagination around the turn of the twentieth century Looking beyond the colonialist movement it focuses on young Germans who grew up during this era and the various commercial and educational media through which they daily encountered the wider world Using their imaginary colonial encounters Jeff Bowersox explores how Germans young and old came to terms with a globalizing world Chapters on toys school instruction popular literature and the Boy Scouts or Pfadfinder reveal how Germans through mass consumer culture and mass education built a definitive association between colonial hierarchies and Germany's place in the modern age By 1914 this colonial sensibility had been accepted as common sense but it always remained flexible and vague It could be adapted to serve competing and contradictory purposes ranging from profit and pedagogical reform to nationalist mobilization and international socialist solidarity Thus as young Germans used images of imperialism to construct their own fantastical adventures adults tried to use those same images to ward off the worst excesses of industrial modernity and to mold young people into capable and productive citizens The result was a chaotic multitude of imagined empires vying for space in the public arena as Germans debated how best to raise the next generation of children Raising Germans in the Age of Empire explains how colonial visions not only shaped Germans engagement with globalization but also determined how they understood themselves as a modern nation
