

Half-Life Lab

Before this begins, find your other group and pass this document back to your prewriting partners of your choice or print this page.

Purpose

The purpose of this hands-on lab is to model the concept of half-life using a simple, inexpensive radioactive source.

Materials

- 100 M&M's candies, pretzels, or other small candies with two different colors
- container or other small bag/pot to hold

Procedure

1. Place 100 candies in the clear bag, remove air, and zip. The candies will stand for source of a hypothetical radioactive element.
2. Close the bag and shake it vigorously for three seconds. This is one time interval.
3. Remove the bag and shake out any candies that have their one color showing (representing decay). These candies represent the source that decayed during the time interval. Count and record the number while the number of decayed source and the number of remaining, non-decayed, source.
4. Continue repeating steps two and three until all candies have decayed or you have reached 10 seconds in the class/lab.
5. Repeat the entire experiment (steps 1-4) at least 5 times and record all data.
