

CHAPTER 13

SEGMENT AND INTERIM REPORTING

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Q13-1 Information on a company's operations in different industries would be helpful to investors in their assessments concerning the different profit rates, different degrees and types of risk, and different opportunities for growth of each of the different industries. In general, this breakdown helps the investors look behind the consolidated totals to the individual components that comprise the company.

Q13-2 The relationship between the FASB's segment disclosure requirements and a company's profit centers focuses on the management viewpoint in FASB 131. The FASB requires that the definitions of operating segments used for internal decision-making purposes be used for presenting segment information for financial statement purposes.

Q13-3 The three ten percent significance tests used to determine reportable segments under FASB 131 are the 10 percent revenue test, the 10 percent operating profit (loss) test, and the 10 percent assets test.

For the 10 percent revenue test, the numerator and denominator are as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Each operating segment's total revenue} \\ \text{(including intersegment transfers and sales)}}{\text{Combined revenue of all operating segments} \\ \text{(including intersegment transfers and sales)}}$$

For the 10 percent profit (loss) test, the numerator and denominator are as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Each operating segment's profit (loss)}}{\text{Absolute value of the combined profit or} \\ \text{combined losses of the operating segments} \\ \text{(whichever is greater)}}$$

For the assets test, the numerator and denominator are as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Each operating segment's assets}}{\text{Combined assets of all industry segments}}$$

Q13-4 Whatever items are used for internal decision-making purposes to measure the operating segment's profit or loss shall be reported in the external disclosure.
