LAOS, (UPI) — A Japanese airline carrying 167 people from Tokyo to Osaka crashed in a fiery crash on the Pacific Ocean today, killing 180 of the 245 people aboard in the worst single air disaster in history, airport officials said.

Airport authorities said a total of 23 persons, including the pilot, had not been recovered, and the crash site was still being searched.

The officials said the Boeing 747 jet came off the runway in a steep climb as it was landing at New York airport and burst into flames.

SARONG (UPI) — South Vietnamese forces have suffered a major defeat in the last few days, with two army battalions captured and not to planes and other losses reportedly accumulated southwest of Saigon.

Field reports said at least 30 vehicles, some of them mounted, had arrived back to government lines in the last two days, those that have been sold to North forces by the Communists after agreeing to leave away their weapons.

It was not known how many more were trying to escape or how many they were about to surrender. The battle was apparently fought like an enemy trap on two sides. The government has admitted so far in 34 of its major battles and 100 wounded men.

Fetal Positions Amy Adamczyk, 2025 In many countries abortion is a contentious public opinion issue In nations like the United States advocates on both sides of the debate have actively worked to amplify their voices and change legislation In other parts of the world such as China abortion is not a major discussion topic because many residents may see it as a relatively settled issue Legal developments often move in accordance with changes in public opinion but not always What explains differences in public opinion about abortion around the globe Fetal Positions explores this question using large scale surveys from most of the world s population interviews with experts from two case study countries the US and China and an analysis of newspaper articles from over forty countries The book examines the factors influencing cross national abortion rates and individual abortion decisions investigates the relationship between attitudes and laws and explores how personal and national characteristics shape views on abortion In Fetal Positions Amy Adamczyk makes the case that abortion disapproval is not randomly distributed across the world In fact patterns can be found across nations Adamczyk shows that cross national differences in public opinion can largely be explained based on a handful of factors overall levels of religious belief Catholic proportion economic and educational development type of government and government history and gender inequality Latin America for example is dominated by Catholicism has high levels of religious belief and low levels of abortion support Conversely while France and Spain have strong historical connections to the Catholic Church the proportion who feel that
