Smut Two Unseemly Stories:

Smut Alan Bennett, 2011-05-05 The Shielding of Mrs Forbes Graham Forbes is a disappointment to his mother who thinks that if he must have a wife he should have done better Though her own husband isn't all that satisfactory either Still this is Alan Bennett so what is happening in the bedroom and in lots of other places too is altogether more startling perhaps shocking and ultimately more true to people's predilections The Greening of Mrs Donaldson Mrs Donaldson is a conventional middle class woman beached on the shores of widowhood after a marriage that had been much like many others happy to begin with then satisfactory and finally dull But when she decides to take in two lodgers her mundane life becomes much more stimulating

The Laying On Of Hands Alan Bennett, 2014-05-09 Clive Dunlop was a masseur of exceptional talents His services were much in demand amongst the great and the good and after his untimely death at the age of 34 they the film stars and politicians the writers and publishers the TV pundits and celebrity chefs are gathered for his memorial service The conduct of the service is a great worry for the priest taking the service but it proves to be a test for the congregation This is Alan Bennett at his absolute best with an exceptional satire It is a perfect work of fiction but it will give readers the extra frisson of pleasure of identifying many of the characters including even the masseur This is a small masterpiece

The Lady in the Van Alan Bennett, 2015-05-07 In 1974 the homeless Miss Shepherd moved her broken down van into Alan Bennett's garden Deeply eccentric and stubborn to her bones Miss Shepherd was not an easy tenant And Bennett despite inviting her in the first place was a reluctant landlord And yet she lived there for fifteen years This account of those years was first published in 1989 in the London Review of Books The play premiered in 1999 directed by Nicholas Hytner and starring Dame Maggie Smith who reprise their roles in this new film adaptation Shot on location at Bennett's house Alex Jennings plays the author alongside household names including Frances de la Tour Jim Broadbent and Dominic Cooper

The Rhetoric of Literary Communication Virginie Iché, Sandrine Sorlin, 2022-01-31 Building on the notion of fiction as communicative act this collection brings together an interdisciplinary range of scholars to examine the evolving relationship between authors and readers in fictional works from 18th century English novels through to contemporary digital fiction The book showcases a diverse range of contributions from scholars in stylistics rhetoric pragmatics and literary studies to offer new ways of looking at the author reader channel drawing on work from Roger Sell Jean Jacques Lecercle and James Phelan The volume traces the evolution of its form across historical periods genres and media from its origins in the conversational mode of direct address in 18th century English novels to the use of second person narratives in the 20th century through to 21st century digital fiction with its implicit requirement for reader participation The book engages in questions of how the author reader channel is shaped by different forms and how this continues to evolve in emerging contemporary genres and of shifting ethics of author and reader involvement This book will be of particular interest to students and scholars interested in the intersection of pragmatics stylistics and literary studies
