Theoretical Orientations and Practical Applications of Psychological Ownership Chantal Olckers, Llewellyn van

Zyl, Leoni van der Vaart, 2017-11-27 This book shares the theoretical advancements that have been made regarding psychological ownership since the development of the construct and specifically the practical applications within multi cultural and cross cultural environments Enriched by empirical data and case studies by subject specialists in the field this book serves as a cutting edge benchmark for human resource management specialists industrial psychologists as well as students in positive organizational psychology and professionals in other fields This book follows an in depth view of the most recent research trends in psychological ownership Offering practical tools of how the psychological ownership of employees could be developed in the workplace to not only enhance the performance of organisations but to increase the commitment of employees and influence the intentions of skilled employees to remain with their organisations Geomorphology in the Anthropocene Andrew S. Goudie, Heather A. Viles, 2016-10-10 A comprehensive treatment of the human role in modifying geomorphological forms and processes and their influence on the Earth's systems Colonial Survey and Native Landscapes in Rural South Africa, 1850 - 1913 Lindsay F. Braun, 2014-10-16 In Colonial Survey and Native Landscapes in Rural South Africa 1850 1913 Lindsay Frederick Braun explores the technical processes and struggles surrounding the creation and maintenance of boundaries and spaces in South Africa in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The precision of surveyors and other colonial technicians lent these enterprises an illusion of irreproachable objectivity and authority even though the reality was far messier Using a wide range of archival and printed materials from survey departments repositories and libraries the author presents two distinct episodes of struggle over lands and livelihoods one from the Eastern Cape and one from the former northern Transvaal These cases expose the contingencies contests and negotiations that fundamentally shaped these changing South African landscapes Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02-01 In South African higher education the images of dysfunction are everywhere Student protests Violence Police presence Rubber or real bullets Class disruptions Burning tyres Damaged buildings Injury and sometimes death Reports of wholesale corruption Year after year often in the same set of universities the problem of routine instability seems insoluble The financial academic and reputational costs of ongoing dysfunction are high especially for those universities caught up in the never ending struggle to overcome apartheid legacies Any number of explanations have been ventured including a lack of resources shortage of capacity rural location corrupt officials and endemic conflict Corrupted takes a deeper look at dysfunction in an attempt to unravel the root causes in a sample of South African universities At the heart of the problem lies the vexed issue of resources or more pertinently the relationship between resources and power who gets what and why Whatever else it aspires to be commonly a place of teaching learning research and public duty a university in an impoverished community is also a rich concentration of resources around which corrupt staff students and those outside of campus all vie for access Taking a political economic approach Jonathan Jansen describes the daily struggle for institutional resources and offers accessible sensible insights He argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Rather durable solutions would include the depoliticisation of university councils and appointments of academics with integrity and capacity to manage and lead these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly
