

Valedictorian Speech (Sample only)

A pleasant morning/afternoon everyone especially to our dearest (name of principal), teachers, parents, and my fellow graduates! Today, we are celebrating the success of the fruitful end of our elementary education and the beginning of the new chapter in our school life. I know that all of us are in mixed emotions but, this is the time to rejoice for we are able to finish and accomplish something that we can be proud of. In behalf of my fellow graduates, I would like to take this opportunity to thank our Dear Lord and those who have helped us achieve our dreams especially (mention the name of the persons you would want to personally thank). (Take a pause) I suddenly reminisced on some of the memories with my classmates, friends, and teachers. These are the things that we have laughed and shared at and even those that caused our so called failures. Those situations are too many to mention but, deep inside me all of you knew what I was talking about. I wish that we would cherish those unforgettable moments and experiences. (Nicole, you may add your personal experience and those people you want to mention). Now that the society may somehow consider as grown-ups, I hope that we will never forget to thank God and ask for his guidance. May we likewise instill the values and lessons that we have learned in life.

Thank you my fellow graduates! Congratulations to us and GOD SPEED!

The Russian Kurosawa Olga V. Solovieva,2023 Offers a new historical and thematic perspective on the work of the renowned Japanese director Akira Kurosawa through a detailed discussion of the four films he made based on Russian sources Diggin' Hard S.S Miller,2014-05-14 Diggin Hard clearly states my experiences and struggles with taking ownership of my education This book is not only important to me but to anyone who wants success This book is essential because it will give anyone the resilience to rise up and above everything and anything and to go after his or her dreams and aspirations in life Diggin Hard will cover the topics of loneliness love resilience and passion This book talks about areas in my life where I struggle to find true friendship during my adolescent years How I discover the meaning of love not intimacy but true genuine love through God and my dad How my struggles built me and made me resilient and my passion for learning and making education my foundation The U.S. Primary and Secondary Educational Process Frank E.

Armbruster,Paul J. Bracken,1975 Education and Equality in Japan William K. Cummings,2014-07-14 On the basis of direct personal observation in the classroom systematically gathered data and extensive reading in primary sources the author provides a rich description of how a society can be gradually transformed by the educational process in its schools He then relates this process to the problems of the advanced industrial world Originally published in 1980 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Civic Education in Polarized Times Elizabeth Beaumont,Eric Beerbohm,2024-07-23 Reveals the possibilities and challenges of civic education in circumstances of extreme polarization and how civic learning and political divisiveness can interact and influence each other As fears about polarization and its contribution to democratic crisis and corrosion rise many people have posited civic education as a possible remedy In a time of increasing political polarization what should the goals of civic education be and how should they be implemented In the latest installment of the NOMOS series Eric Beerbohm and Elizabeth Beaumont bring together a distinguished group of interdisciplinary scholars across philosophy politics and law inviting us to think deeply about the complex promises and pitfalls of civic education Contributors raise a variety of crucial considerations not only about how to educate citizens in a polarized era but also for a polarized era What types of civic learning hold promise for preparing students to navigate their way through a political landscape of escalating hostile factions distrust truth decay and disagreement about basic facts Could or should civic education attempt to reduce or counteract polarization or should it focus on other aims Beaumont and Beerbohm show us that the dynamics and circumstances of polarization do not stop at the schoolhouse gates but bring new urgency together with added pressures and constraints to all civic education As political polarization continues to intensify across the globe this riveting volume illuminates the significance the possibilities and the challenges of civic education in the contemporary era Normal Instructor and Primary Plans, 1914 School Prayer and Discrimination Frank S. Ravitch, 1999 Frank Ravitch has written a fine book one that offers a fair and thorough treatment of a difficult and vexing political and constitutional issue Law and Politics Book Review Racing to the Top Using Mathematics and Science Dr. LTC RET. CHET Goodwin, 2012-03-27 Racing to the Top Using Math and Science is the true story about how the author used wisdom Math and Science in and outside the classroom to become valedictorian of his high school class New England at 400 Eric D. Lehman, 2019-12-17 At the 400th anniversary of the pilgrims arrival 1620 2020 it s time to look back commemorate and reflect on what New England has meant to its people and to the world New England at 400 From Plymouth Rock to Present Day describes how every generation of immigrants and natives Puritans and patriots has defined this land anew It is a story of transformation but also continuity since New England embodies both a collective philosophy and a shared past Each chapter covers a decade of important incidents and events that defined or shaped the regional character land and culture Teachers and the Law Louis Fischer, David Schimmel, Leslie Stellman, 2007 This text provides a question and answer format which addresses every aspect of school law from a teacher s and school administrator s perspective Clearly written and useful to both teachers and school administrators this text focuses on legal issues reflecting current trends that are important to educators in the 21 st century The authors designed the text for school professionals seeking an easy to use reference on every important area of school law including student and employee rights the impact of the No Child Left Behind Act on those rights and how to understand their legal rights and responsibilities This up to date presentation provides insights into laws governing education as well as court decisions from all 50 states and the federal courts Guiding legal principles are presented in such a way that educators can easily understand and follow today s trends in the law governing education School, 1884

Love's Promises Martha M. Ertman, 2016-05-24 Blends memoir and legal cases to show how contracts can create family relationships Most people think of love and contracts as strange bedfellows or even opposites In Love s Promises however law professor Martha Ertman shows that far from cold and calculating contracts shape and sustain families Blending memoir and law Ertman delves into the legal cases anecdotes and history of family law to show that love comes in different packages each shaped by different contracts and mini contracts she calls deals Family law should and often does recognize that variety because legal rules like relationships aren t one size fits all The most common form of family which Ertman calls Plan A come into being through different kinds of agreements than the more uncommon families that she dubs Plan B Recognizing the contractual core of all families shows that Plan B is neither unnatural nor unworthy of legal recognition just different After telling her own moving and often irreverent story about becoming part of a Plan B family of two moms and a dad raising a child Ertman shows that all kinds of people straight and gay married and single related by adoption or by genetics use contracts to shape their relationships As couples navigate marriage reproductive technologies adoption and cohabitation they encounter contracts Sometimes hidden and other times openly acknowledged these contracts ensure that the people they think of as family are legally recognized as family in the eyes of the law Family exchanges can be substantial like vows of fidelity or small like I cook and you clean But regardless of scope the agreements shape the emotional social and financial terrain of family relationships Seeing the instrumental role contracts will help readers better understand how contracts and deals work in their own families as well as those around them Both insightful and paradigm shifting Love's Promises lets readers in on the power of contracts and deals to support love in its many forms and to honor the different ways that our nearest and dearest contribute to our daily lives

From the Iron House Deena Rymhs, 2008-04-16 In From the Iron House Imprisonment in First Nations Writing Deena Rymhs identifies continuities between the residential school and the prison offering ways of reading the carceral that is the different ways that incarceration is constituted and articulated in contemporary Aboriginal literature Addressing the work of writers like Tomson Highway and Basil Johnston along with that of lesser known authors writing in prison serials and underground publications this book emphasizes the literary and political strategies these authors use to resist the containment of their institutions The first part of the book considers a diverse sample of writing from prison serials prisoners anthologies and individual autobiographies including Stolen Life by Rudy Wiebe and Yvonne Johnson to show how these works serve as second hearings for their authors an opportunity to respond to the law's authority over their personal and public identities while making a plea to a wider audience The second part looks at residential school narratives and shows how the authors construct identities for themselves in ways that defy the institution's control The interactions between these two bodies of writing residential school accounts and prison narratives invite recognition of the ways that guilt is colonially constructed and how these authors use their writing to distance themselves from that guilt Offering new ways of reading Native writing From the Iron House is a pioneering study of prison literature in Canada and situates its readings within international criticism of prison writing Contributing to genre studies and theoretical understandings of life writing and covering a variety of social topics this work will be relevant to readers interested in indigenous studies Canadian cultural studies postcolonial studies auto biography studies law and public policy A
