Home Care for Older Adults Using Interprofessional Teams Danita H. Stapleton,Sekeria Bossie,2023-10-16 This textbook fosters a deeper understanding of how home healthcare goals for older adults can be achieved through interprofessional collaboration The contributors create a context where allied health and healthcare professionals can acquire and exchange knowledge about their diverse disciplines and practices for the betterment of the home care population The book also reinforces what the COVID 19 pandemic made quite apparent to health institutions and providers patients can receive adequate and acceptable care within the home setting The pandemic also highlighted the important role that interprofessionalism can play in attaining desired patient outcomes Statistics reveal that the population of persons over the age of 65 years is the largest that it has ever been This volume focuses on older adult patients because caring for these individuals from an interprofessional perspective is now more important than ever Through the ten chapters of this edited book the contributors including home care providers offer their perspectives on interprofessional collaboration and the provision of quality home care services They use the Interprofessional Education Collaborative s IPEC four core competencies as a framework for improving the collaborative practice of home health care for older adult patients with complex medical issues Among the topics covered Medical Social Work and Case Management Skilled Nursing Physical Therapy Occupational Therapy Behavioral Health Care Other Relevant Home Care Services Prosthetics and Orthotics Pharmacy Services Durable Medical Equipment and Nutritional Services Home Care for Older Adults Using Interprofessional

Teams is intended for advanced undergraduate and graduate students in health or allied health programs and can be used as a primary text for interprofessional education courses. The text benefits students, instructors, and faculty who have stakes in obtaining positive health outcomes for older adult patients. Today, more and more programs are requiring the development of interprofessional competencies. This book provides a forum where students can obtain in-depth knowledge of teaming as well as the roles and functions of various care providers. Legal Aspects of Documenting Patient Care for Rehabilitation Professionals Ronald W. Scott, 2006. Because communication among health care professionals can mean the difference between patient life and death, clear and effective patient care documentation is as important as the delivery of care itself. The rehabilitation professional faces formidable documentation responsibilities. Patient care documentation created by the rehabilitation professional must be accurate, comprehensive, concise, objective, and timely. In an interdisciplinary health care environment, documentation must also be expeditiously communicated to other professionals on the health care team.

Physical Therapy Documentation Mia Erickson, Mia L. Erickson, Rebecca McKnight, Ralph Utzman, 2008. Complete accurate documentation is one of the essential skills for a physical therapist. This book covers all the fundamentals, includes practice exercises, case studies throughout. The best-selling newly updated occupational therapy textbook. Documentation Manual for Occupational Therapy Fifth Edition is made for students and early career practitioners learning the critical skill of documentation. The workbook format offers students ample opportunities to practice writing occupation-based problem statements and goals, intervention plans, SOAP notes, and other forms of documentation. The Fifth Edition has also been updated to reflect changes in the American Occupational Therapy Association's Occupational Therapy Practice Framework Domain and Process Fourth Edition. What's included in Documentation Manual for Occupational Therapy. Numerous worksheets for students to practice individual skills with suggested answers provided in the Appendix. Updated information on coding, billing, and reimbursement to reflect recent Medicare changes, particularly in post-acute care settings. Examples from a variety of contemporary occupational therapy practice settings. Included with the text are online supplemental materials for faculty use in the classroom. Instructors in educational settings can visit the site for an Instructor's Manual with resources to develop an entire course on professional documentation or to use the textbook across several courses. One of the most critical skills that occupational therapy practitioners must learn is effective documentation to guide client care, communicate with colleagues, and maximize reimbursement. The newly updated and expanded Documentation Manual for Occupational Therapy Fifth Edition will help students master their documentation skills before they ever step foot into practice. Functional Performance in Older
