

Vagina

But what does the woman have between her legs? She has a little opening called a vagina (it rhymes with Carolina).

All right. Now, if you can remember those two names, the penis and the vagina, we'll get on to how a baby is made.

The beginning of a baby

What happens is this. Let's say the man and the woman are lying in bed together. (This part often happens in bed, because a bed is so nice and comfortable.)

The man loves the woman so he gives her a kiss. And she gives him a kiss. And they hug each other very tight. And after a while the man's penis becomes stiff and hard, and much bigger than usually is. It gets bigger because it has lots of work to do.

Now babies start here.
