The Guide Writers Homes New England:

A Guide to Writers' Homes in New England Miriam Levine, 1991      A Skeptic's Guide to Writers' Houses Anne Trubek, 2011-07-11 There are many ways to show our devotion to an author besides reading his or her works Graves make for popular pilgrimage sites but far more popular are writers house museums What is it we hope to accomplish by trekking to the home of a dead author We may go in search of the point of inspiration eager to stand on the very spot where our favorite literary characters first came to life and find ourselves instead in the house where the author himself was conceived or where she drew her last breath Perhaps it is a place through which our writer passed only briefly or maybe it really was a longtime home now thoroughly remade as a decorator's show house In A Skeptic's Guide to Writers Houses Anne Trubek takes a vexed often funny and always thoughtful tour of a goodly number of house museums across the nation In Key West she visits the shamelessly ersatz shrine to a hard living Ernest Hemingway while meditating on his lost Cuban farm and the sterile Idaho house in which he committed suicide In Hannibal Missouri she walks the fuzzy line between fact and fiction as she visits the home of the young Samuel Clemens and the purported haunts of Tom Sawyer Becky Thatcher and Injun Joe She hits literary pay dirt in Concord Massachusetts the nineteenth century mecca that gave home to Hawthorne Emerson and Thoreau and yet could not accommodate a surprisingly complex Louisa May Alcott She takes us along the trail of residences that Edgar Allan Poe left behind in the wake of his many failures and to the burned out shell of a California house with which Jack London staked his claim on posterity In Dayton Ohio a charismatic guide brings Paul Laurence Dunbar to compelling life for those few visitors willing to listen in Cleveland Trubek finds a moving remembrance of Charles Chesnutt in a house that no longer stands Why is it that we visit writers houses Although admittedly skeptical about the stories these buildings tell us about their former inhabitants Anne Trubek carries us along as she falls at least a little bit in love with each stop on her itinerary and finds in each some truth about literature history and contemporary America      An Arsonist's Guide to Writers' Homes in New England Brock Clarke, 2008-09-02 Funny profound a seductive book with a payoff on every page People A lot of remarkable things have happened in the life of Sam Pulsifer the hapless hero of this incendiary novel beginning with the ten years he spent in prison for accidentally burning down Emily Dickinson's house and unwittingly killing two people emerging at age twenty eight he creates a new life and identity as a husband and father But when the homes of other famous New England writers suddenly go up in smoke he must prove his innocence by uncovering the identity of this literary minded arsonist In the league of such contemporary classics as A Confederacy of Dunces and The World According to Garp An Arsonist's Guide to Writers Homes in New England is an utterly original story about truth and honesty life and the imagination      Insight Guides New England \(Travel Guide eBook\) Insight Guides, 2022-10-01 Insight Guide to New England is a pictorial travel guide in a magazine style providing answers to the key questions before or during your trip deciding when to go to New England choosing what to see from exploring Boston to discovering Acadia National Park Maine or

Homes and Haunts Alison Booth,2016 This is the first full length study of literary tourism in North America as well as Britain and a unique exploration of popular response to writers literary house museums and the landscapes or countries associated with their lives and works An interdisciplinary study ranging from 1820 1940 Homes and Haunts Touring Writers Shrines and Countries unites museum and tourism studies book history narrative theory theories of gender space and things and other approaches to depict and interpret the haunting experiences of exhibited houses and the curious history of topographical writing about famous authors In illustrated chapters that blend Victorian and recent first person encounters that range from literary shrines and plaques to guidebooks memoirs portraits and monuments Alison Booth discusses pilgrims such as William and Mary Howitt Anna Maria and Samuel Hall and Elbert Hubbard and magnetic hosts and guests as Washington Irving Wordsworth Martineau Longfellow Hawthorne James and Dickens Virginia Woolf s feminist response to homes and haunts shapes a chapter on Mary Russell Mitford Gaskell and the Brontes and another on the Carlyles house and Monk s House Booth rediscovers collections of personalities haunted shrines and imaginative re enactments that have been submerged by a century of academic literary criticism

The Author's Effects Nicola J. Watson,2020 A fascinating account of the emergence of the writer s house museum over the course of the nineteenth century in Britain Europe and North America It considers the museum as a cultural form and asks why it appeared and how it has constructed authorial afterlife for readers individually and collectively Cincinnati Magazine ,2007-11 Cincinnati Magazine taps into the DNA of the city exploring shopping dining living and culture and giving readers a ringside seat on the issues shaping the region

Long Drive Home Will Allison, 2012-02-07 In this riveting novel a happily married man makes a mistake that results in a teenager's death and sends his own life into a devastating tailspin

Reading the Mountains of Home John Elder, 1998 Small farms once occupied the heights that John Elder calls home but now only a few cellar holes and tumbled stone walls remain among the dense stands of maple beech and hemlocks on these Vermont hills Reading the Mountains of Home is a journey into these verdant reaches where in the last century humans tried their hand and where bear and moose now find shelter As John Elder is our guide so Robert Frost is Elder's companion his great poem Directive seeing us through a landscape in which nature and literature loss and recovery are inextricably joined Over the course of a year Elder takes us on his hikes through the forested uplands between South Mountain and North Mountain reflecting on the forces of nature from the descent of the glaciers to the rush of the New Haven River that shaped a plateau for his village of Bristol and on the human will that denuded and farmed and abandoned the mountains so many years ago His forays wind through the flinty relics of nineteenth century homesteads and Abenaki settlements leading to meditations on both human failure and the possibility for deeper communion with the land and others An exploration of the body and soul of a place an interpretive map of its natural and literary life Reading the Mountains of Home strikes a moving balance between the pressures of civilization and the attraction of wilderness It is a beautiful work of nature writing in which human nature finds its place where the reader is invited to follow the last line of Frost's Directive to Drink and be whole again beyond confusion

A Literary Cavalcade-I Robert A. Parker, 2013-11-03 For six decades writer and editor Robert A Parker has followed up each book he reads mainly novels with an evaluation His comments are informed by an independent critical view that balances a moral and literary sensibility In this first of six volumes the authors covered range from Kobo Abe to Michael Cunningham They include Richard Adams Russell Banks Anthony Burgess A S Byatt James Carroll Willa Cather J M Coetzee and Joseph Conrad The commentaries are listed alphabetically by author and the books by the date of publication for each author Some authors are represented by one book some by five or more Future volumes will cover additional authors alphabetically The writers here represent a broad range of writing styles cultural influences and moral philosophies And all are rated on their literary achievement the effectiveness of plot character and setting plus their recognition of the moral ethical and spiritual values of mankind

American Guides Wendy Griswold, 2016-08-26 In the midst of the Great Depression Americans were nearly universally literate and they were hungry for the written word With an eye to this market and as a response to unemployment Roosevelt's Works Progress Administration created the Federal Writers Project They produced the Project's American Guides an impressively produced series that set out not only to direct travelers on which routes to take and what to see throughout the country but also to celebrate the distinctive characteristics of each individual state The series unintentionally diversified American literary culture's cast of characters promoting women minority and rural writers while it also institutionalized the innovative idea that American culture comes in state shaped boxes

Literary Luminaries of the Berkshires Bernard A.

Drew, 2015-06-29 The literary history behind this beautiful mountain region The Massachusetts Berkshires have long been a mecca for literary greats from Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and Edith Wharton to Sinclair Lewis and Joan Ackermann The Green River in Great Barrington inspired William Cullen Bryant's poetry Charles Pierce Burton's childhood hometown Adams became the setting for his frolicking Boys of Bob's Hill children's books During an interlude in Lenox Patricia Highsmith consulted a local undertaker for details to use in The Talented Mr Ripley In this book Bernard A Drew brings together a fascinating chronicle of some 250 wordsmiths who took inspiration from the hills and valleys of the Berkshires The Taste of Salt Martha Southgate, 2011-09-13 Award winning novelist Martha Southgate who in the words of Julia Glass can write fat and hot then lush and tender then just plain truthful and burning with heart now tells the story of a family pushed to its limits by addiction over the course of two generations Josie Henderson loves the water and is fulfilled by her position as the only senior level black scientist at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute In building this impressive life for herself she has tried to shed the one thing she cannot her family back in landlocked Cleveland Her adored brother Tick was her childhood ally as they watched their drinking father push away all the love that his wife and children were trying to give him Now Tick himself has been coming apart and demands to be heard Weaving four voices into a beautiful tapestry Southgate charts the lives of the Hendersons from the parents first charmed meeting to Josie's realization that the ways of the human heart are more complex than anything seen under a microscope Literary Concord Uncovered Joseph L. Andrews, 2014 Multiple Narratives, Versions and Truth in the Contemporary Novel Nicholas Frangipane, 2019-10-22 Multiple Narratives Versions and Truth in the Contemporary Novel considers the shifting perception of truth in fiction Nicholas Frangipane examines the narrative technique of telling multiple versions of the same sets of events presenting both true and false versions of the events within a fictional work This book looks closely at these Reflexive Double Narratives in order to understand the way many contemporary writers have attempted to work past postmodernism without forgetting its lessons Frangipane explores how writers like Ian McEwan Yann Martel and Alice Munro have departed from the radical experimentation of their predecessors and instead make sincere attempts to find ways that fictional writing can reveal enduring truths and in so doing redefine the meaning of truth itself and signal the emergence of post postmodernism An Arsonist's Guide to Writers' Homes in New England Brock Clarke, 2008 Sam Pulsifer has come to the end of a very long and unusual journey The truth is a lot of remarkable things have happened in Sam's life He spent ten years in prison for accidentally burning down poet Emily Dickinson's house and unwittingly killing two people in the process Houses of God Peter W. Williams, 2024-04-22 Houses of God is the first broad survey of American religious architecture a cultural cross country expedition that will benefit travelers as much as scholars Beautifully illustrated with over 100 photographs some by well known photographers such as Walker Evans and Dorothea Lange this handsome book provides a highly accessible look at how Americans shape their places of worship into multifaceted reflections of their culture beliefs and times Where is American Literature? Caroline F.

Levander,2013-04-16 Where is American Literature offers a spirited and compelling argument for rethinking the way we view American literature in relation to the nation while powerfully demonstrating why it continues to matter in a global age A refreshing and accessible investigation into the various locations linguistic geographical virtual ideological where American writing is produced and consumed Takes a highly original approach by viewing US literature spatially rather than chronologically or thematically retuning our understanding of the subject The book offers a vital intervention in current debates over the impact of digital technologies on the production and reception of literature ensuring that the field remains lively and dynamic Invites readers to reconsider the subject by questioning current perspectives on and approaches to US literature offering a range of fresh perspectives on familiar texts and topics Dwelling in the Text Marilyn R. Chandler,2022-09-23 What is a house And what can architecture tell us about individual psychology national character and aspiration The house holds a central place in American mythology as Marilyn Chandler demonstrates in a series of house tours through American novels beginning with Thoreau s Walden and ending with Toni Morrison s Beloved and Marilynne Robinson s Housekeeping Chandler illuminates the complex analogies between house and psyche house and family house and social environment and house and text She traces a historical path from settlement to unsettledness in American culture and explores all the rituals in between of building decorating inhabiting and abandoning houses She notes the ambivalence between our desire for rootedness and our romanticization of wide open spaces relating these poles to the tension between materialism and spirituality in our national character At a time when housing has become a problem of unprecedented dimensions in America this look at the place of houses and homes in the American imagination reveals some sources of the attitudes assumptions and expectations that underlie the designing and building of the homes we buy sell and dream about This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1991 Cincinnati Magazine ,2007-11 Cincinnati Magazine taps into the DNA of the city exploring shopping dining living and culture and giving readers a ringside seat on the issues shaping the region
