music      Dark Side of the Tune: Popular Music and Violence Professor Bruce Johnson, Professor Martin Cloonan, 2013-01-28 Written against the academically dominant but simplistic romanticization of popular music as a positive force this book focuses on the dark side of the subject It is a pioneering examination of the ways in which popular music has been deployed in association with violence ranging from what appears to be an incidental relationship to one in which music is explicitly applied as an instrument of violence A preliminary overview of the physiological and cognitive foundations of sounding hearing which are distinctive within the sensorium discloses in particular their potential for organic and psychic violence The study then elaborates working definitions of key terms including the vexed idea of the popular for the purposes of this investigation and provides a historical survey of examples of the nexus between music and violence from pre Biblical times to the late nineteenth century The second half of the book concentrates on the modern era marked in this case by the emergence of technologies by which music can be electronically augmented generated and disseminated beginning with the advent of sound recording from the 1870s and proceeding to audio internet and other contemporary audio technologies Johnson and Cloonan argue that these technologies have transformed the potential of music to mediate cultural confrontations from the local to the global particularly through violence The authors present a taxonomy of case histories in the connection between popular music and violence through increasingly intense forms of that relationship culminating in the topical examples of music and torture including those in Bosnia Darfur and by US forces in Iraq and Guant namo Bay This however is not simply a succession of data but an argumentative synthesis Thus the final section debates the implications of this nexus both for popular music studies itself and also in cultural policy and regulation the ethics of citizenship and arguments about human rights      CMJ New Music Report ,2004-11-29 CMJ New Music Report is the primary source for exclusive charts of non commercial and college radio airplay and independent and trend forward retail sales CMJ s trade publication compiles playlists for college and non commercial stations often a prelude to larger success      Hoodlums William L. Featherstone, 2015-01-01 A blond haired blue eyed Lutheran man is approached on the streets of Chicago by members of the Latin Kings so he may teach them how to pray and he does so with grace this man s story one suspects isn t going to be a typical one Life has not been easy for Charles Featherstone From being bullied by peers and teachers in school to his refusing to become a bully himself by leaving the armed services to wandering the world in search of work and finding unexpected hospitality as an outsider nearly everywhere to witnessing the 9 11 attacks from his nearby office Featherstone s story is a tale of survival akin to Jacob s wrestling the angel at the River Jabbok It may well leave the reader limping a bit too for the encounter with God found in these pages is stark and startling Truly God's love knows no bounds and cannot be captured by labels but as Featherstone's life attests that love just might capture you      Memory, Identity and Cognition: Explorations in Culture and Communication Jacek Mianowski, Michał Borodo, Paweł Schreiber, 2019-03-26 The book analyses a variety of topics and current issues in linguistics and literary studies focusing especially on such aspects as memory identity and cognition Firstly it discusses the notion of memory and the idea of reimagining as well as coming to terms with the past Secondly it studies the relationship between perception cognition and language use It then investigates a variety of practices of language users language learners and translators such as the use of borrowings from hip hop and slang The book is intended for researchers in the fields of linguistics and literary studies lecturers teaching undergraduate and master's students on courses in language and literature
