The Horses Of The Sahara Eug Egrave Ne Daumas:

The Horses of the Sahara Eugène Daumas, 2014-01-13 The Arabs created one of the world's finest breeds of saddle horses the Arabian and they have long possessed an immense store of knowledge regarding the care training and breeding of this splendid horse In the nineteenth century General Melchior Joseph Eugene Daumas had access to their knowledge even though as he pointed out it requires a great deal of patience and tact for a Christian to obtain from the Mohammedans even the most insignificant of details General Daumas was because of his unique relationship with the Arabs probably the first European to produce a comprehensive study of Arabian horses And to add even greater value to The Horses of the Sahara he was able to secure for the ninth edition here translated extended commentaries on all aspects of Arabian horsemanship by the Emir Abd el Kadar one of the most important nineteenth century Arab leaders and certainly one of the foremost authorities on the subject The Horses of the Sahara will be of interest not only to equestrians but also to historians and other scholars interested in the customs of the North African desert tribes and in the complex backgrounds of European North African relations General Daumas took part in the conquest of Algeria by France so distinguishing himself that he was named Director of the Bureau of Algerian Affairs in the French Ministry of War During the campaigns and the occupation that followed he studied and attempted to understand the native peoples with an objectivity and sympathy unusual among the colonialists of the period His book provides fascinating sidelights on many aspects of Arab life including customs superstitions religion and family life Sheila M Ohlendorf was uniquely suited to translate The Horses of the Sahara An excellent rider herself thoroughly experienced with the animals and the techniques being discussed she also spoke fluent French having received her B A degree in languages from Texas Western University now the University of Texas at El Paso As curator of the Hall of the Horsemen the large collection at the University of Texas at Austin she had access to a wide variety of supplementary authorities which enriched both her translation and the notes that accompany the book

The Horses of the Sahara and the Manners of the Desert E. Daumas, 2023-10-27 In The Horses of the Sahara and the Manners of the Desert by E Daumas readers are transported to the exotic world of the Sahara desert through vivid descriptions of majestic horses and the unique customs of the nomadic tribes who inhabit this harsh landscape Daumas employs a poetic and insightful writing style that brings the desert to life giving the reader a deep understanding of its beauty and challenges The book also serves as a valuable ethnographic study of the desert dwellers and their traditional way of life shedding light on a culture that is often misunderstood by outsiders Through detailed observations and personal anecdotes Daumas paints a rich portrait of the Sahara and its inhabitants making this book a compelling read for those interested in travel literature and cultural studies E Daumas a seasoned traveler and scholar of the desert draws on his own experiences to craft this enlightening work that showcases his passion for the nomadic lifestyle and the magnificent horses that are central to it His deep respect for the desert people shines through in his writing creating a profound connection

Daumas..., With Commentaries by the Emir Abd-el-Kader. Translated from the French by James Hutton...* Eugène Daumas (Gal.),1863 Horses of the Sahara Eugène Daumas,1863 The Ways of the Desert Eugène Daumas,2013-12-06 The Ways of the Desert translated from the French offers an introduction to the North African Arab nomads their way of life customs dress and religion The companion to this volume The Horses of the Sahara provides a detailed description and history of the great breeds of Arab horses While part of this book is devoted to descriptions of the various animals that are both hunted and used for hunting its appeal goes well beyond its attraction for those with a special interest in the lore of desert hunt and chase General Daumas and his major collaborator informant the Emir Abd el Kader together provide sensitive insights into the total culture of the North African desert people of the nineteenth century Both spiritual and material aspects of desert life are encompassed in this work which ranges from translations of Arab poetry to descriptions of the uses of the fat and remains of the ostrich The patterns of conviction and conduct described form an important part of the rich cultural heritage of the modern Maghreb nations The way of life described in this book is often presented from what comes very close to being an inside point of view Occasionally Daumas feels obliged to disapprove of certain practices or beliefs or to criticize his Arab friends but in large part his underlying sympathy for the Arab people permits his informants to speak clearly through his pen General Melchior Joseph Eugene Daumas took part in the conquest of Algeria by France and for his distinguished service was named Director of the Bureau of Algerian Affairs in the French Ministry of War During the campaigns and the occupation that followed he studied and attempted to understand the native peoples with an objectivity and sympathy unusual among the colonialists of the period He recorded a way of life that has changed much since the nineteenth century and much of what he recorded has since been lost His account as well as being an important source for the historian and ethnographer provides for the general reader a fascinating record of the vanishing ways of the desert The Horses of the Sahara, and the Manners of the Desert, with Comm. by the Emir Abd-El-Kader, Tr. by J.
