The Illegal Business Of Human Trafficking:

The Illegal Business of Human Trafficking Maria João Guia, 2014-12-26 This book offers a brand new perspective on human trafficking as an illegal business. It also proposes a new form of networked action combining the perspectives of academic researchers with those of highly skilled professionals involved in policymaking in this area. This book is a unique contribution and a first step toward a networking paradigm promoting collaboration in preventing and combating human trafficking crime and in raising awareness of this ongoing problem. This book was born within the CINETS group Crimmigration Control International Net of Studies www.crimmigrationcontrol.com which was established in 2011 with the aim of bringing together expertise from different fields, professions, universities and countries. It aims to form a new paradigm for sharing knowledge and advancing research on topics related to human trafficking, crimmigration control, immigration and crime, immigrant detention and all types of violence that may affect victims of crimes, helping to create a fairer society.

Combating Human Trafficking in Our Major Cities United States. Congress. House. Committee on Homeland Security, 2014 Human Trafficking Under International and Tanzanian Law Nicksoni Filbert Kahimba, 2021-03-13 This book deals with the problem of human trafficking in Tanzania in the light of international law and considers human trafficking as both a criminal offence in Tanzania and a human rights violation within international law in general. The book broadens the reader's understanding of the subject of human trafficking and Tanzania's legal approach to the issue and allows the reader to grasp Tanzania's anti-trafficking piecemeal efforts from the 1970s onwards, the reasons that made Tanzania ratify the Protocol to Prevent Suppress and Punish Trafficking in Persons Especially Women and Children supplementing the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime and Tanzania's National Assembly's deliberations regarding the enactment of the Anti-Trafficking in Persons Act of 2008 and the impact those deliberations have had on the current legal framework of Tanzania. It provides a firsthand critical analysis of the Tanzania anti-trafficking law, pointing out its strengths, weaknesses and areas for improvement in a comprehensive manner such as has never been attempted before. The book shares many tips and even insights on how to read and apply Tanzania's 2015 Anti-Trafficking Regulations in relation to the main law harmoniously. It also offers complete instructions for common law practitioners, court personnel, researchers and other anti-trafficking personnel on how to investigate and prosecute human trafficking, prevent trafficking both lawfully and from occurring as well as assist victims of human trafficking and protect their human rights. Nicksoni Filbert Kahimba is a doctoral researcher in the Faculty of Law of the Humboldt University zu Berlin in Berlin, Germany. The author also lectures at the School of Law of the University of Dar es Salaam in Tanzania. Specific to this book, it contains the only up-to-date critical analysis of the Tanzanian anti-trafficking law in light of international law. It equips common law practitioners, court personnel, researchers and other anti-trafficking personnel with basic principles on how to combat human trafficking effectively while also protecting the victims thereof. It simplifies a complicated picture of human trafficking.

and its myriad aspects in respect to the Tanzanian anti trafficking legal and institutional framework This is Volume 27 in the International Criminal Justice Series Sex Trafficking and Human Rights Heather Smith-Cannoy, Patricia C. Rodda, Charles Anthony Smith, 2022-09-01 Case studies explore how women's rights shape state responses to sex trafficking and show how politically empowering women can help prevent and combat human trafficking Human trafficking for the sex trade is a form of modern day slavery that ensnares thousands of victims each year disproportionately affecting women and girls While the international community has developed an impressive edifice of human rights law these laws are not equally recognized or enforced by all countries Sex Trafficking and Human Rights demonstrates that state responsiveness to human trafficking is shaped by the political social cultural and economic rights afforded to women in that state While combatting human trafficking is a multiscalar problem with a host of conflating variables this book shows that a common theme in the effectiveness of state response is the degree to which women and girls are perceived as and actually are full citizens By analyzing human trafficking cases in India Thailand Russia Nigeria and Brazil they shed light on the factors that make some women and girls more susceptible to traffickers than others This important book is both a call to understanding and a call to action if the international community and state governments are to responsibly and effectively combat human trafficking they must center the equality of women in national policy Organized Crime Geoff Dean, Petter Gottschalk, Ivar Fahsing, 2010 Organized crime in the twenty first century is a knowledge war that poses an incalculable global threat to the world economy and harm to society the economic and social costs are estimated at upwards of 20 billion a year for the UK alone SOCA 2006 7 Organized Crime Policing Illegal Business Entrepreneurialism offers a unique approach to the tackling of this area by exploring how it works through the conceptual framework of a business enterprise Structured in three parts the book progresses systematically through key areas and concepts integral to dealing effectively with the myriad contemporary forms of organised crime and provides insights on where how and when to disrupt and dismantle a criminal business activity through current policing practices and policies From the initial set up of a crime business through to the long term forecasting for growth and profitability the authors dissect and analyse the different phases of the business enterprise and propose a Knowledge Managed Policing KMP approach to criminal entrepreneurialism Combining conceptual and practical issues this is a must have reference for all police professionals policing academics and government policy makers who are interested in a Strategy led Intelligence supported Knowledge Managed approach to policing illegal business entrepreneurialism Migration, Refugees and Human Security in the Mediterranean and MENA Marion Boulby, Kenneth Christie, 2018-03-15 This book focuses on the Mediterranean MENA migration crisis and explores the human security implications for migrants and refugees in this troubled region Since the Arab uprisings of 2010 2011 the Middle East and North Africa region has experienced major political transformations and called into question the legitimacy of states in the region Displaced populations continue to suffer due to the major conflicts in Syria Iraq and elsewhere causing fragmentation and dis integration of communities Contributors to this volume analyze how and why this crisis differs significantly from previous migration refugee flows in the region explain the historical and political antecedents of this crisis which have played a part in its shaping and explore the relationship between human security and the protection of vulnerable individuals and groups

Representations of Transnational Human Trafficking Christiana Gregoriou,2018-06-29 This open access edited collection examines representations of human trafficking in media ranging from British and Serbian newspapers British and Scandinavian crime novels and a documentary series and questions the extent to which these portrayals reflect the realities of trafficking It tackles the problematic tendency to under report particular types of victim and forms of trafficking and seeks to explore both dominant and marginalised points of view The authors take a cross disciplinary approach utilising analytical tools from across the humanities and social sciences including linguistics literary and media studies and cultural criminology It will appeal to students academics and policy makers with an interest in human trafficking and its depiction in the modern day

Human Trafficking and Prostitution Among Women and Girls of Edo State, Nigeria Possibility of Rehabilitation Through Education and Prevention Mary Dorothy Ezech,2017-06-06 Even though this study was primarily on human trafficking and prostitution among Edo women and girls of Edo state in Nigeria human trafficking however is a widespread visible phenomenon in the world today It is a global problem A report from United Nations Office on Drug and Crime in 2014 says that human trafficking involves over three million people in the world bringing their slaveholders an annual profit of 32 billion dollars According to the same report there is no place in the world where children women and men are safe from human trafficking In the background the stark reality of poverty unemployment social marginalization political crises wars interethnic conflicts and the militarization of entire territories has increased the massive displacements of the population fuelling the illegal sex trade linked to them Many youngsters who desire to improve their living conditions and those of their families fleeing their homes often become prey to criminal organizations who take advantage of them exploit them and dehumanize them Little do they know when they are leaving their homes to go to overseas what is waiting for them is often something altogether different namely intimidation blackmail violence nightmare and slavery that strip them of all dignity and respect To make matters worse most of the victims and their families not only lose credibility but are also ostracized by their local communities when what happened comes to light Therefore the victims of this painful chain are not only young girls and boys but also families Unfortunately some parents especially mothers have also been perpetrators of this deplorable crime They push their daughters into the arms of their torturers lulled by the dream of a brighter future To stop and to prevent the reoccurrence of this criminal network of complicity which has been more or less voluntary conscious and unconscious a joint commitment by all governments organizations local communities and individuals is necessary Everyone needs to remember and never forget that every human being every person has been created and procreated in the image and likeness of God and is a subject of essential rights which should never be violated but rather should be respected and upheld by everyone in every time and place

Protecting Victims of Human Trafficking From Liability Julia Maria Muraszkievicz, 2018-12-11 This book demonstrates the difficulty of protecting victims of human trafficking from being held liable for crimes they were compelled to commit in the course or as a consequence of being trafficked under current European law The legislation remains vague and potentially inadequate to recognise victimhood safeguard the human rights of victims and avoid further victimisation Muraszkievicz explains how the non liability principle is rooted in criminal and human rights law and proposes a more efficient provision and framework which would protect trafficked persons and do better to encourage victims to act as witnesses in criminal proceedings against the perpetrators In doing so the book will provide relevant stakeholders including policy makers and law enforcement authorities with a better understanding of the non liability principle and how it ought to be used in practice

The Oxford Handbook of Migration Crises Cecilia Menjivar, Marie Ruiz, Immanuel Ness, 2019 The Oxford Handbook of Migration Crises focuses on two interrelated aspects of migration crises the contexts that give rise to such crises and the role of the media and public officials in framing migratory flows as crises It critically examines what crises are where they arise and how this concept is used in scholarship and policy

Handbook of Research on the Global Impact of Media on Migration Issues Okorie, Nelson, Ojebuyi, Babatunde Raphael, Macharia, Juliet Wambui, 2019-10-25 In today's culture media outlets have as much influence on the general public as ever Migration is an issue that has sparked commentary throughout the globe leading to many dissimilar viewpoints These news systems have the ability to convey mass messages regarding these disputes which could lead to a wide range of socio cultural implications depending on the intent and nature of these reports The Handbook of Research on the Global Impact of Media on Migration Issues provides emerging research exploring the theoretical and practical aspects of media structures and implications of media institutions tackling migration issues and related problems Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as human trafficking global peace and modern slavery this book is ideally designed for reporters journalists policymakers government officials communication specialists industry professionals students and scholars seeking current research on the modern development of migration Using Open Data to Detect Organized Crime Threats Henrik Legind Larsen, José María Blanco, Raquel Pastor Pastor, Ronald R. Yager, 2017-04-07 This work provides an innovative look at the use of open data for extracting information to detect and prevent crime and also explores the link between terrorism and organized crime In counter terrorism and other forms of crime prevention foresight about potential threats is vitally important and this information is increasingly available via electronic data sources such as social media communications However the amount and quality of these sources is varied and researchers and law enforcement need guidance about when and how to extract useful information from them The emergence of these crime threats such as communication between organized crime networks and radicalization towards terrorism is driven by a combination of political economic social technological legal and environmental factors The contributions to this volume represent a major step by researchers to systematically collect filter interpret and use the information available For the purposes of this book the only data sources used are publicly available sources which can be accessed legally and ethically This work will be of interest to researchers in criminology and criminal justice particularly in police science organized crime counter terrorism and crime science It will also be of interest to those in related fields such as applications of computer science and data mining public policy and business intelligence The Organisation of Crime and Harm in the Construction Industry Jon Davies, Hanna Malik, 2024-04-30 Drawing on empirical work and secondary analysis from the UK and Finnish construction industries this book contributes a deep rooted analysis of construction industry harms that originate from corporate industrialstate processes The UK context arguably represents a classic neoliberal system categorised by privatisation of services and minimal regulation whereas Finland broadly provides a social democratic alternative with its relatively strong national regulation and public sector oversight of industry These concepts interlink strongly with the notion of state corporate crime since this perspective shifts attention away from individualistic explanations for crime and harm towards symbiosis between states and corporations This book argues that existing explanations based on organised crime and individual rogues are insufficient to account for the wider range and subtlety of harms that occur in construction and therefore offers a unique perspective into organisational industry and state dynamics in this sector An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology organized crime and those interested in harms in the construction industry The Trap of Proximity Violence Ignazia Bartholini, 2020-08-30 This book aims at shifting the emphasis from a general vision of gender based violence to a more opaque yet equally destructive one that related to proximity violence The first type of violence is exercised in multiple situations and in the generality of relationships experienced by people involving others who are both strangers to and intimate with each other Proximity violence provides and includes a fiduciary kind of proximity of dependent intimacy where the trust that the victim places in the other her tormentor favours the exercise of violence itself allowing it to take place thus making it practically imperceptible when not actually normal in extreme cases In turn this confidence is comparable to a veil of Maja which in conditions of vulnerability typical of victims attenuates the consequences of the violence undergone or the omens of what becomes violent action The conceptual triad proximity violence vulnerability resistance resilience is explored here in the three main chapters and in the details aimed at identifying in the final chapter the mutual interconnections This book will be of particular interest and use to undergraduate and graduate students of sociology and gender studies Illicit Business Anthea McCarthy-Jones, Mark Turner, 2024-10-29 Illicit business is big business It covers a diverse range of activities from money laundering drug trafficking and human trafficking through to the manufacture of counterfeit goods and the multiple activities in informal and shadow economies This book introduces the world of illegal business The authors contextualise the evolution in practices of illegal business around the world highlighting the importance of organised crime shadow economies and informal sectors Incorporating scholarly insights with real world examples the book provides a much needed business and economics analysis of a subject that is otherwise dominated by criminologists With a range of case studies this book provides a global approach that will be valuable reading for students seeking to understand the business of crime

Vivencio O. Ballano, 2015-12-26 This book addresses the persistence of the optical media piracy trade in the Philippines and Vietnam It goes beyond arguments of defective law enforcement and copyright legal systems by applying sociological perspectives to examine the socio economic forces behind the advent of piracy in the region Using documentary and ethnographic data in addition to resistance and ecological theories in sociology of law and technology as the overall theoretical framework the book investigates factors that contribute to this phenomenon and factors that impede the full formalization of the optical media trade in the two countries These factors include the government's attitude towards the informal sector and strong resistance to tougher IPR protection unstable and sometimes conflicting policies on technologies burdensome business registration process and weak enforcement of business regulations bureaucratic corruption and loopholes in law enforcement system as well as trade ties with China In addition to that the book highlights the social background of the actors behind the illegal business of counterfeit CDs and DVDs thereby explaining the reasons they continue to persist in this type of trade It invites policymakers law enforcers advocates of anti piracy groups and the general public to use a more holistic lens in understanding the persistence of copyright piracy in developing countries shifting the blame from the moral defect of the traders to the current problematic copyright policy and enforcement structure and the difficulty of crafting effective anti piracy measures in a constantly evolving and advancing technological environment

From Human Trafficking to Human Rights Alison Brysk, Austin Choi-Fitzpatrick, 2012-01-31 Over the last decade public political and scholarly attention has focused on human trafficking and contemporary forms of slavery Yet as human rights scholars Alison Brysk and Austin Choi Fitzpatrick argue most current work tends to be more descriptive and focused on trafficking for sexual exploitation In From Human Trafficking to Human Rights Brysk Choi Fitzpatrick and a cast of experts demonstrate that it is time to recognize human trafficking as more a matter of human rights and social justice rooted in larger structural issues relating to the global economy human security U S foreign policy and labor and gender relations Such reframing involves overcoming several of the most difficult barriers to the development of human rights discourse women's rights as human rights labor rights as a confluence of structure and agency the interdependence of migration and discrimination the ideological and policy hegemony of the United States in setting the terms of debate and a politics of global
