The Goodlife Recipe Recall:

The Good Life of Teaching Chris Higgins, 2011-10-17 The Good Life of Teaching extends the recent revival of virtue ethics to professional ethics and the philosophy of teaching. It connects long standing philosophical questions about work and human growth to questions about teacher motivation, identity and development. Makes a significant contribution to the philosophy of teaching and also offers new insights into virtue theory and professional ethics. Offers fresh and detailed readings of major figures in ethics including Alasdair MacIntyre, Charles Taylor and Bernard Williams and the practical philosophies of Hannah Arendt, John Dewey and Hans Georg Gadamer. Provides illustrations to assist the reader in visualizing major points and integrates sources such as film, literature and teaching memoirs to exemplify arguments in an engaging and accessible way. Presents a compelling vision of teaching as a reflective practice showing how this requires us to prepare teachers differently.

Plato's Philebus Panagiotis Dimas, Russell E. Jones, Gabriel Richardson Lear, 2019 This is the inaugural volume of the Plato Dialogue Project; it offers the first collective study of the Philebus, a high point of philosophical ethics containing some of Plato's most sophisticated discussions of human happiness. The contributors work through the text discussing pleasure, knowledge, philosophical method and the human good.

Living the Good Life Elif Akçetin, Suraiya Faruqi, 2017-10-02 Eighteenth century consumers of the Qing and Ottoman empires had access to an increasingly diverse array of goods from home furnishings to fashionable clothes and new foodstuffs. While this tendency was of shorter duration and intensity in the Ottoman world, some urbanites of the sultans' realm did enjoy silks, coffee and Chinese porcelain. By contrast, a vibrant consumer culture flourished in Qing China where many consumers flaunted their fur coats and indulged in gourmet dining. Living the Good Life explores how goods furthered the expansion of social networks, alliance building between rulers and regional elites and the expression of elite urban and gender identities. The scholarship in the present volume highlights the recently emerging material turn in Qing and Ottoman historiographies and provides a framework for future research. Chang, Edhem Eldem, Colette Establet, Antonia Finnane, Selim Karahasanoglu, Lai Hui-min, Amanda Phillips, Hedda Reindl, Kiel Martina Siebert, Su Te Cheng, Joanna Waley Cohen, Wang Dagang, Wu Jen-shu, Yildiz Yilmaz and Yun Yan.

Take My Word Anne E. Goldman, 2023-09-01 In an innovative critique of traditional approaches to autobiography, Anne E. Goldman convincingly demonstrates that ethnic women can and do speak for themselves even in the most unlikely contexts. Citing a wide variety of nontraditional texts including the cookbooks of Nuevo Mexicanas, African American memoirs of midwifery and healing, and Jewish women's histories of the garment industry, Goldman illustrates how American women have asserted their ethnic identities and made their voices heard over and sometimes against the interests of publishers, editors and readers. While the dominant culture has interpreted works of ethnic literature as representative of a people rather than an individual, the working women of this study insist upon their own agency in narrating rich and complicated self-portraits. In an innovative critique of traditional approaches to autobiography,

Anne E Goldman convincingly demonstrates that ethnic women can and do speak for themselves even in the most unlikely contexts Citing a wide variety of nontraditional texts including Philosophy and the Good Life John Cottingham,1998-07-23 John Cottingham s 1998 study examines three philosophical approaches to the systematic understanding of human nature

Contending for the Faith Ralph C. Wood, 2003 In this book Ralph Wood calls for churches to offer a sustained and unapologetically Christian witness to a postmodern world Wood carefully chronicles how the church is watching the complete destruction of post Christian institutions and practices that once shaped human character toward fulfillment in goods larger than humanity s own self interest the chief of these being the worship and service of God Wood contends that Christian existence can never be taken for granted and so the church itself must seek to create a Christian culture that offers the world a drastic alternative to its own cultureless existence
